IN JUSTICE REALMS.

Laquin Man Loses His Money and Lands in the County Jail.

JUSTICE MEREDITH DECIDES.

'Squire Gives P. Gori Judgment for $6 and Costs Against Chief Miller For Two Revolvers Which Were Taken From Italians.

Monday morning, Patrick Meehan of the Laquin lumber district struck Towanda with ckecks and cash to the amount of $73. Monday night a large portion of his hard earned wealth had been exchanged for Towanda juice of joy. Tuesday morning, he found himself in the lockup, paid a fine and complained that some person unknown had touched him up for one of his cheeks. Tuesday night he was found sleeping on the West end abutment of the river bridge, was arrested by Officer Watson and Wednesday morning Justice Meredith gave him a fine of $2 and costs, or ten days in jail; he had to take the ten days as nothing was left of his $73, except a suit of clothes which he had purchased on his arrival.

Wayward Son.

Fred Geiger was arrested Tuesday night by Officers Hollon and Watson, on complaint of his father, who charged him with threatening to do murder and burn their home. Wednesday morning he plead guilty to the charge and was held to September Court, and in default of $500 bail he was placed in the county jail.

Judge Meredith Decides.

'Squire Meredith who recently discharged an Italian for carrying concealed weapons on the ground that it was not shown that the Italian intended to injure anyone, has made another important ruling in the case. Chief of Police Miller, who held the captured guns in the hopes of again apprehending the Italians on another warrant, was sued before 'Squire Meredith by P. C. Gori who claimed the Italian had assigned the weapons to him. David E. Kaufman appeared for the Plaintiff, William Maxwell represented the Defendant. The defence was, first, that there had been no assignment; second, that Chief Miller had a right to retain the guns as evidence as another complaint had been made against the Italian. The 'Squire after several days deliberation decided in favor of the Plaintiff and gave Mr. Gori a judgment of $6 and cost. The case will probably be appealed to CCourt.

STABBING AFFRAY.

Anson Walker of Wells Township, Daugerously Wounded by Italian.

Mosherville, in Wells township, was the scene of a stabbing affray on the Fourth of July, and as a result, Anson Walker, an American, is at the point of death, and Tom Tumus is in the county jail in Towanda, charged with inflicting the wound.

It seems that Walker and Tumus got into an altercation on the afternoon of the Fourth and during the fight, Tumus stabbed Walker, inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. Tumus was arrested and arraigned before Justice Asa Wilcox, and committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury, and the outcome of his victim's wound. He was brought to Towanda Saturday and placed in jail.

Convention at Waverly.

The Waverly firemen have begun preparations to entertain their brother firemen from Sayre and Athens, Sept. 19, the day of the Valley Firemen's association parade. The excessive rates charged by the railroads will keep the local firemen from taking long trips this Summer, and they will plan to make their own convention a greater success than ever.

Damaged His Strawberries.

A strawberry dealer from Standing Stone township, had the misfortune to have a couple of crates of nice berries damaged by his horse trotting down Huston street, when left standing for a few minutes Saturday morning. The berries had to be sold at a greatly reduced price.

Pardon Board Will Not Hear Johnson's Application Until July 17.

Charles Johnson, the condemned murderer in the Bradford county jail under sentence to be hanged on July 25, will not have his second hearing before the State Board of Pardons until Wednesday of next week. The case was to have been heard Tuesday and the attorneys who will appear for and against the commuting of the death sentence were all ready to leave for Harrisburg, when Attorney Wilson received a message from the clerk of the Pardon board stating that all capital cases to come before the board had been continued until July 17.

Lilley & Wilson were to have represented Johnson, while District Attorney Mills and William Maxwell, Esq., were to represent the commonwealth.

If the Pardon board refuses to intercede in Johnson's behalf on the 17th, he will be hanged in the Towanda jail yard on July 25, just one week later.

ITALIAN STABS GIRL.

Jealousy Almost Leads to Murder in Eldridge Park, Elmira.

Grace Latterel lies in a wounded condition in the Arnot-Ogden hospital, as a result of an attempt made on her life by an Italian in Eldridge park, Elmira, Friday evening, shortly after 7 o'clock. She was in company with William Hershinger, a brewer, sitting on the lawn near the bear pit, when the young Italian approached from the direction of the D., L. and W. railroad tracks. The Italian called to Hershinger, who arose and started towards him, and as he did so the Italian pulled a stilletto from underneath his coat and made a vicious attempt to stab him.

Hershinger ran for assistance and the Italian then approached the woman, and, grabbing her by the wrist, made a thrust at her heart with the blade. She managed to ward off the blow so that it did not strike over her heart, but fell lower, striking into her left thigh. The would-be murderer then fled to the bushes along the Lackawanna railroad tracks and disappeared.

Hershinger states that the Italian made several threats to take his life and that last week while in a saloon on Railroad avenue, he drew out a knife and attempted to stab him then. Hershinger stated that he went for a policeman at that time, but the Italian had got away when he returned.

The Italian was enamored with the girl and was jealous of Hershinger.

MURDER AT WAVERLY.

Italians Gambled for Four Bottles of Beer, With Fatal Results.

Shot to death with a revolver in the hands of one of his countrymen, was the fate meted out to Sarto Cardoni, an Italian, in a box car on the Lehigh Valley railroad tracks, a short distance from the East Waverly station, about 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

The death of Cardoni was simply the climax of a quarrel that started over four bottles of beer. The alleged murdered, Angenlio Cacionne, escaped and is still at large, but the police throughout the surrounding country have been asked to be on the lookout for the man and his brother, Manio Cacionne, who left with him.

WEATHER PROPHET DIREFUL.

By Watching Flight of Birds He Foresees Death of 100 Persons.

Amos Wolford, the West Schuylkill weather prophet, who obtained fame by predicting ten days in advance the exact time of the beginning of warm weather last month, is out in a new prediction in which he declares the latter part of July and August will be prolific of disastrous electric storms caused by extreme heat.

Over 100 persons will be killed by lightning within that time in Pennsylvania alone, he declares. Walford bases his predictions by watching the movements of birds.

Little Boy Breaks an Arm.

John O'Connell, Jr., the four years old son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connell of William street, suffered a fracture of the right arm at the elbow, by falling from a step ladder on which he was playing Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Charles M. Woodburn reduced the fracture.

Three More For the Stone Pile.

Three more hoboes were sent down from Sayre Tuesday morning by Justice Carey, to serve ten days each on the stone pile. They trespassed on the Lehigh right of way.

HUSBAND CREMATED.

Horrible Crime Committed By a Scranton Woman and Her Lover

WANTED HIM OUT OF THE WAY

Michael Howrsto's Body Was Soaked With Kerosene Oil and Then Set on Fire by His Wife—Lackawanna's Most Diabolical Crime.

Mrs. Kindra Howrsto, a Lithuanian, aged 18, is in jail at Scranton, charged with killing her husband by most atrocious means Monday night. In a confession, made to County Detective Rafter, she charges a former sweetheart, Ignatz Hutro, with having conceived the fiendish plot. It is the most diabolical murder crime ever to come to light in Lackawanna county

Mickel Howrsto two years ago married a girl half his age, who had loved Hutro in the old country. Recently he came and on Monday the prisoner says he visited her and suggested that she ply her husband with whiskey and when he lay in a sodden sleep, set fire to his bed. With Howrsto dead, Hutro declared he could then marry her.

The woman promptly carried out the plot, only with more realistic features. She gave him whiskey at supper and again later. He went to bed. She rose in the silent night, took the lighted lamp and poured the oil over the body of the sleeper. He roused and she says that in her excitement she dropped the flaming lamp.

In an instant the bed and the occupant were ablaze. After she was sure that the deed was successful, she ran screaming downstairs with the alarm of fire.

The man was removed to the hospital suffering frightful agony and died in 20 minutes. The appearance of the room arcused suspicion and the woman was arrested. Finally she broke down and told this horrible story, implicating Hutro, who was arrested, but who denies the accusation of instigating the murder.

FOUND A HUSBAND IN JAIL.

Sequel to a Novel Courtship in Northumberland County Jail.

While waiting for the parade of Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' circus on May 29, Miss Caroline Hauke, having some little time to spend, decided to visit the Northumberland county jail. Miss Hauke is from East Lewisburg and went to Sunbury to see the parade. While going through the jail inspecting the jrisoners she met Willis Bogart of Upper Allton, Ill., who is serving a term of one year on the charge of larceny.

She struck up a conversation with him, which developed into courtship and then love. They finally decided to marry and were joined in wedlock Friday by the chaplain of the jail, the Rev. Mr. Gearhart. Bogart is about 28 years old and has five months of his sentence to serve. Miss Hauke is about 25 years old.

Wil Start From Stevensville.

For nearly a year the R. F. D. route supplying the people West and South of LeRaysville with mail has been in an unsettled condition owing to the fact that part of the patrons have desired that the route start from LeRaysville while others wanted it to start from Stevensville. The route originally started from LeRaysville but last Summer Mr. Carr, the driver, was ordered to report at Stevensville and whether the headquarters would be there or at LeRaysville has been uncertain until last Thursday when an order was received from the department notifying Mr. Carr that it had been decided to have the route start from Stevensville.

Dangerous Toy Cannon.

Mrs. Joseph Morgan of Waverly, was the victim of Fourth of July sport Thursday. Some boys of the neighborhood had a small cannon which they had loaded with powder and gravel. Careless in handling it the boys had the cannon directed straight at Mrs. Morgan, although she was some distance away. As the gun exploded she received the force of the shot in the face and a deep gash was plowed along the entire side of her head. Had the shot taken effect an inch higher, it must certainly have proved fatal.

Will Retain Pastor.

The LeRaysville Times says: "A meeting of the members of the Congregational church was held Thursday, June 27, to vote upon the choice of pastor for the chuch year, beginning Oct. 1, 1907. J. P. Bosworth was elected chairman of the meeting, Mrs. A. L. Jenkins, judge, and Messrs. Howell Powell and H. W. Beecher, tellers. A number of members who were unable to be present sent sealed votes. The total vote was 34 to eight in favor of retaining the present pastor, Rev. Magee Pratt.

TRACK WALKER FATALLY INJURED

Russell Park of Ulster, Meets Death in Peculiar Form Monday Afternoon

Russell Park, Lehigh track walker between Ulster and the Sugar Creek bridge at North Towanda, was fatally killed in a very peculiar manner Monday afternoon.

He was walking along the tracks at a point a short distance South of Ulster, when he was overtaken by the Southbound Black Diamond express due at Towanda at 3:30 in the afternoon. He stepped off the track while the train passed and as the locomotive dashed by him, a huge lump of coal rolled from the tender, striking him on the head, fracturing the skull. He was taken to the Packer hospital at Sayre, where he died a short time later. There is a short curve in the track at the point where the accident occurred and the swerving of the engine caused the coal to roll from the tender.

Mr. Park, whose life was so cruelly snuffed out, was about 50 years of age, and with his wife had been respected residents of Ulster for a long time.

STORY OF A BROKEN HOME.

No Other Man or Woman in This Unusual Case From Easton.

From Easton comes the following story of a broken home in which, strange as it may seem, no "other man" or no "other woman" plays any part:

"Unhappy family relations which have been known to exist in the home of Prof. Edward Hart, the distinguished chemist of the Lefayette College faculty, has resulted in Mrs. Hart leaving to take up her abode in Philadelphia, with her two sons, Richard and Francis, and her daughter, Marion.

"Prof. Hart has not lived at his residence for some time and is now left alone. The separation of the members of the family is generally ascribed to differences over Christian Science, and the cause dates back to the illness of Norman Hart, the eldest son of Prof. and Mrs. Hart, a student at Lafayette, who died from typhoid pneumonia about five years ago.

"When Norman became ill his father was not notified, but a Christian Science healer was consulted and gave treatment at one of the hotels in that city, the healer not being allowed to come to the house. The treatment was given with the consent of other members of the family. It was not until Norman had developed a most serious case of typhoid that he finally told his father of his condition. Then a physician was summoned, but it was too late.

"The death robbed Dr. Hart of his first born. His entire nature became intensely antagonistic to the teachings of Christian Science and his attitude toward the doctrine became little short of a passion. As members of his family endeavored to appease his grief and to reconcile him to his loss, there began to grow up an estrangement due to the fact that his family seemed to be imbued more strongly than ever with the teachings of the scientists; so much so, in fact, that they could no more give them up than Dr. Hart could embrace them. Efforts on the part of Mrs. Hart to induce her husband to accept her views were ineffectual."

Fractured Limb.

Mrs. Irving Searles of Sayre, stepped off the sidewalk on Bridge street in Towanda Tuesday night, and in falling, sustained a bad fracture of the left limb. She had been visiting her son and was going to a neighbor's when the accident occurred. She was taken to the Packer hospital for treatment.

The water pumped into a storage reservoir, will be utilized in supplying Mr. Searle's Summer home at that popular suburban resort. —Susquehanna Transcript.

VERY STRANGE CASE.

Desertion, Non-Support and Alienation of Affections Charged

MRS. BLACKMAN PLAINTIFF.

Has Her Husband Arrested for Desertion and Non-Support and Sues Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Fox for Alienation of His Affections.

One of the strangest and most peculiar cases to come to the attention of the Braford county courts in many years, was made public Saturday when Harry L. Blackman of Hornbrook, was arrested on a complaint made before 'Squire Orcutt, by his wife, charging him with desertion and non-support. He was brought to Towanda and gave bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next term of quarter sessions court, DeWitt Fox of Hornbrook, becoming his bondsmen.

Saturday evening Fox, Blackman's bondsman, was brought to Towanda by Sheriff Griffin on a capias issued by Judge Fanning on complaint of Mrs. Blackman, who has instituted proceedings against Mr. and Mrs. Fox for the alienation of her husband's affections, claiming damages in the sum of $5,000. He gave bail for his appearance in court next Saturday.

It is a sad, strange story Mrs. Blackman tells. Four years ago they were living on the Blackman farm at Hornbrook, happy and contented as could be. The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Blackman and eight children, six of whom were and are yet unmarried. One day the husband and father went over to the home of DeWitt Fox who lived on a neighboring farm, and since then he has been a member of the household, boarding there and working for Fox.

Mrs. Blackman, it is alleged, made repeated attempts to get her husband to come home but without avail. She was forced to go to work together with the children to maintain themselves, Blackman not contributing toward their support. Last Spring Mrs. Blackman and the children moved to Waverly, and succeeded in getting Blackman back to his home and family, but only for two days when he returned to the Fox home, where he is at present.

Unable to bear it any longer, Mrs. Blackman has resorted to law, and the desertion and non-support charge against her husband, and the damage suit for alienation of affections against Mr. and Mrs. Fox are sequels to the strange state of affairs.

So far Blackman has offered no explanation for his strange actions, and not until the matter is sifted in court will it be known what caused him to leave his home and family.

Lilley & Wilson represent Mrs. Blackman, while William Maxwell has been retained to defend Mr. and Mrs. Fox in the damage suit.

FELL THREE STORIES.

Child Rolls Out of Window and Escapes Serious Injury.

To fall from a third story window and finally land upon the ground without any serious injury is the remarkable experience of a child of Mr. and Mrs. John Kolatch of Wilkes-Barre.

A few nights ago, the night being very hot, Mrs. Kolatch, who went to bed early with her child, placed the bed beside the window in order to receive the fresh air. Some time during the night Mrs. Kolatch was awakened by a cry, and upon investigation found that her child had rolled out of the window, which is three stories from the ground. She quickly ran down stairs and out into the yard, expecting to find her little one dead, but such was not the case for the little fellow, except for a few bruises, was unhurt.

The child in falling landed upon the back porch of the house, and after rolling off of that, struck the edge of a stone wall which supports a terrace, and then fell to the ground.

STOVE BLACKING CAUGHT FIRE.

Causing Severe Injuries to Woman and Loss of Home.

Mrs. Temple Goodwin of Wellsboro, was severely burned by a fire which virtually destroyed the Goodwin home Sunday morning. She arose before her husband and to tidy up the house for Sunday, blackened the kitchen stove with a preparation containing benzine. She kindled a fire with kerosene.

The benzine blacking exploded, setting fire to her and the house. Her husband extinguished the flames that were consuming her by wrapping her in a blanket, and started to carry her to one of the neighbors. Just as he went out of the kitchen the kerosene can exploded and the whole building was enveloped in flames. Mrs. Goodwin will recover.

BIG HAIL STORM AT LACEYVILLE.

Great Damage Wrought Tuesday Afternoon—Huge Hailstones Fell.

The Laceyville correspondent of The Daily Review and Reporter-Journal, sends the following account of the storm which visited that section Monday afternoon:

The worst hail storm in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants visited this section at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Several stones were measured that were 6 inches and 6½ inches in circumference, and the ground was entirely covered with them. Much damage was done to gardens and crops and all windows on the North side of buildings were broken here in town and at Skinners Eddy. The fine, large memorial window on the North side of the Baptist church has 56 holes in it. Even shingle roofs were split and holes made in them and tin roofs were battered so they are in very bad condition.

This place seemed the center of the storm as just across the river South no damage was done, neither at Keeney's Ferry two miles West, nor at Frank Grays, two miles North. It is impossible to estimate the damage but gardens here are literally beaten into the ground; cherries and green apples and leaves cover the ground. In less than ten minutes from the time the first stones began falling it was all over except the rain which fell in torrents.

DECAPITATED BY TRAIN.

Waverly Man Was Struck by Lehigh Train and Head Cut Off.

Michael Lynch, a resident of Waverly, was struck and instantly killed by the engine drawing Lehigh train, No. 4, in front of the East Waverly station at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The head was severed from the body. Lynch, whose age is 40 years, has a sister residing on Broad street, in Waverly. The body was left in charge of the station agent at East Waverly, and the coroner was notified.

Lynch was standing alongside the track waiting for a westbound freight which he was making preparations to board. He saw a brakeman on top of the train and it is said the brakeman waved him away from the train. Lynch stepped backward immediately in front of No. 4's engine. His back was broken, both legs were fractured and his head was cut off.

Overpeck Reunion.

The fifth annual reunion of the descendants of Adam and Elizabeth (Mann) Overpeck, was held in the M. E. church at Herrickville, Thursday, June 27. The day was a beautiful one; an almost perfect June day. About 10:30 o'clock the friends began assembling in the audience room of the church. Sixty relatives were present, from East Smithfield, Towanda, Rome, Liberty Corners, Laceyville, LeRaysville, and Orwell. Samuel Overpeck, aged 97 years, and Betsey Overpeck Ford, aged 79 years, the oldest and youngest of the children of the above mentioned Adam and Elizabeth, were present and enjoyed the day. About 30 of the neighbors and friends were present in the afternoon. The morning was spent in shaking hands and registering names, while the hum of voices indicated that all were having a good time. At 12 o'clock came a call from the basement of the church, where the Herrickville ladies had been preparing dinner. Immediately all were moving in that direction, where was found three long tables well filled with good things to eat, and for once, at least, we did with our might what our hands found to do. Bouquets of flowers were upon the tables, while the national colors decorated the walls of the dining room. The general remark as the guests left the dining room, was "what a fine dinner, and so much nicer than to do it ourselves." After an hour or more spent in visiting we turned our attention to the business and literary part of the program. The president, L. C. Overpeck, requested us to rise and sing our national hymn, Mrs. Ida Baker at the organ. Prayer by Rev. Carl Councilman; minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The following officers were elected for another year: President, M. E. Overpeck; vice president, M. A. Overpeck; secretary, Mrs. M. B. Chaffee. The next meeting to be held the last Thursday in June, 1908, at the Herrickville church, unless different arrangements are made. Rev. C. C. Gustin sang a solo, "A Clean Heart," with Mrs. Gustin at the organ; an original poem, written by Mary Melissa Hanna of Hallstead, a great niece of Elizabeth (Mann) Overpeck, was read by the secretary which follows:

Reunion.

The month of June has come again,
The time in which we meet
To shake the hands of kith and kin,
And each one kindly greet.

Another year has quickly passed,
Again we are with you;
A year with all its cares and joys,
And trial not a few.

And as we gather here today,
May rain clouds not be seen;
And roses grace the festal board,
All intertwined with green.

And may our flag find fitting place
'Mong decorations here;
To make us loyal, ev'ry one,
To home and country dear.

To each reunion let us come,
In answer to the call,
And then to go our sev'ral ways,
Ere evening shadows fall.

These hills and vales have long been known
To our ancestral race;
Some of whom, alas! are sleeping,
Where flowers guard the place.

May God's blessing rest upon us,
Wherever we may roam;
During the years that intervene,
"Till we are gathered home."

A motion was made and carried that the poem be placed upon the minutes, also that an invitation be sent to Miss Hanna to be present at our next reunion. Some very interesting remarks were made by Rev. Carl Councilman of Camptown, also the pastor of the Herrickville church. A recitation by Nellie Baker, "The Minister's Grievance," song by J. C. Mitten, "I Went to See the Old Home," recitation by Mrs. W. S. Ford, "Swore Off," she having received the gold medal at the Temperance Contest at New Albany, not long ago. After a few words by George Reynolds, and Rev. C. C. Gustin, all sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." After the benediction by Rev. Gustin, all went to the "green" in the rear of the church where we posed for our picture. As far as known there has not been a death in the family during the past year. Good bye's were said and all felt that it had been good to be there. Mrs. Warren Ford, secretary.

Peck of Trouble.

When it comes to stirring up much trouble over nothing, Sayre is there with the fuss and then some. On the evening before the Fourth, one Edward Johnson shot off a cannon cracker, and just to show him that he might better have shot off his mouth a special officer undertook to arrest Johnson. This was not to Johnson's liking whereupon he took the officer down and rolled him around in the dust, just to show who was the better man. Now Johnson has been held to the grand jury for resisting an officer, when really he is entitled to a Carnegie medal for daring to buck the law in quiet and sedate Sayre.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients — Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical Exponents, Writers and Writers on Materia Medica who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

SUDDENLY SUMMONED.

Mrs. Harley G. Spaulding Found Dead in Bed at Her Home in Sayre.

Mrs. Jennie Spaulding, wife of Harley G. Spaulding, route agent of the United States Express company, was found dead in bed at her home in Sayre Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The body was discovered by her husband who had just returned from Rochester, N. Y., on a late evening train. Doctors Kline and LaPlant were called and they decided that death was the result of a stroke of apoplexy which had evidently attacked her as she lay asleep. The doctors are of the opinion that she had been dead about 12 hours when found by her husband. Justice Carey, acting as coroner, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, death having been the result of natural causes.

The deceased with her husband have been residents of Sayre for the last 39 years, and she was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. Her maiden name was Jennie Brown and she was born in Addison, N. Y., 61 years ago. Forty-one years ago she was married to Mr. Spaulding at Addison. Besides her husband, one son, Harry K Spaulding, formerly of Sayre, a sister, Mrs. W. A. Cronk of Addison, and one brother, F. C. Brown of Syracuse, N. Y., also survive.

Michael Roach.

The funeral of the late Michael Roach who passed away at his home on Bridge street Tuesday midnight, was held from the Roach home Friday morning at 10 o'clock; interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Mr. Roach was born in Casletown Roche, County Cork, Ireland, and came to America with his grandmother, when he was but seven years of age. He came directly to Towanda where he spent the rest of his life, being one of the oldest Irish born residents of the boro. For 50 years Mr. Roach was employed by the late Col. John F. Means. After the death of Mr. Means in 1893, Mr. Roach entered the employ of Former Sheriff W. T. Horton with whom he remained up until a few days before his death, when he was forced to give up on account of illness. Mr. Roach was a quiet, unassuming man, content to pursue the even tenor of his way. He was a kind, courteous gentleman, honest, sincere and faithful to every trust, and there are ahost of friends who will sincerely regret to know that he is no more. He leaves four daughters to mourn the loss of a good, kind father— Mrs. Joseph C. Blum of Kalamazoo, Michigan; Mrs. Frank Blum of Dansville, Livingston County, N. Y., Mrs. Jennie Roach Wood of Towanda, and Mrs. Frank Keating of East Towanda.

Mrs. M. H. Cogen.

Mrs. Mayme Ennis Cogan, wife of Police Sergeant M. H. Cogan of Buffalo, died Tuesday morning at her home in that city, following an operation performed Sunday. She had been ill only since last Thursday.

Mrs. Cogan was born in Towanda about 30 years ago, the daughter of the late George Ennis. She resided here until her marriage to Mr. Cogan 11 years ago, when they went to Buffalo, where they have since resided. She was an accomplished lady, with many beautiful traits of character and great personal beauty, which won for her the admiration, love and esteem of a large circle of friends and acquaintances with whom she was a great favorite. The announcement of her untimely demise causes sincere mourning among her many Towanda friends, who will be grieved to know that she has been taken from the home and family she loved so well.

Beside her husband, three children are left to mourn their great loss, also her mother, Mrs. George Ennis and brother, Robert Ennis, both of Buffalo.

The funeral will be held at Buffalo Thursday morning and interment will be made in the cemetery in that place.

THE FOURTH AT ULSTER.

Village Entertained the Largest Crowd in Twenty Years.

The largest crowd seen in Ulster for the past 20 years attended the Fourth of July celebration, held under the auspices of the Hiawatha Athletic club of that place. The celebration was a succes from every view point. Everything went as advertised and was pulled off faultlessly. The crowd commenced coming on the early trains and continued by train and wagon all during the day and evening. The crowd, though enormous, was very orderly, there not being an arrest, fight or anything to mar the pleasure of any one.

The day started with a parade of base ball teams of Canton and Ulster, led by the Ulster band, at 9 a. m., and the crowd joined and followed them to the H. A. C. field and witnessed the first game. The score being—Ulster H. A. C., 9; Canton, 0. After this game the crowd scattered all over the village and waited for the fantastic parade at 2 p. m. The parade started promptly at 2 p. m., and was very fine, there being a long parade and some fine costumes and very amusing incidents. After the parade came the public dance which lasted all the afternoon and night.

At 3 p. m. the second game started before the largest crowd that ever attended a game in Ulster, the score standing—Ulster H. A. C., 12; Canton, 3. The H. A. C. team of Ulster are becoming famous in Northern Pennsylvania and Southern New York, and have some fast teams on their schedule including Elmira and Owego. Ulster has simply gone base ball wild and is supporting its fine team in grand style. Cranmer and Davidson did the pitching for Ulster, and were grandly supported benind the bat by the crack "Sammy" Morrison. Hartfrant and Davidson pitched for Canton and were supported by Booth, each man pitched well against the slugging H. A. C. team.

Captain McQueen of Ulster, distinguished himself by driving the ball to the grove fence for the second time this season. Ulster has a pair of star pitchers in Davidson and Cranmer, there being none better in this section, and the in and out fields are playing a quality of ball which wins games. Any team which defeats the bunch of base ball artists from the little "burgh" of Ulster will know they have been in a base ball game. The Canton team made a host of friends by their gentlemanly behavior on and off the base ball field, and will always be a welcome team at Ulster, and also a good attraction.

OFFICIALS EN ROUTE.

Lehigh Valley Men Investigate Grade Crossings.

A special train carrying a party of Lehigh Valley railroad officials, among them general manager M. B. Cutler; a number of superintendents and several engineers, including W. G. Burke, chief engineer, and E. B. Ashby, engineer of maintenace, passed up the line Monday on the way to Buffolo, N. Y.

The officials inspected the grade crossings at Northampton, Hazle and Market streets, at Wilkes-Barre, but would express no opinion as to what results are likely to be acomplished by the committee now at work trying to solve the perplexing problem of eliminating these dangerous crossings. One of the officiais admitted the difficulty of arriving at a satisfactory solution and stated that the final result of the attempt to solve the problem might be an elevated track system, which, however, on account of its costliness would be a last resort. The work now being done at the cutoff was looked over and met with satisfaction.

The party inspected the improvements in the vicinity of Towanda including the new bridge, depot and yards at upper Towanda.

Fourth at Litchfield.

The Fourth of July celebration at Litchfield was a grand success in every way. The largest crowd that has ever been in attendance was present to properly observe the nation's birthday. In the morning at 11:30 the addresses of the day were delivered, Rev. Cassius L. Myers speaking first, followed by the Hon. F. N. Moore of North Orwell. Mr. Moore's address was one of high principled eloquence which frequently called forth the applause of the large and attentive audience. The address were followed by a dinner served by the ladies of the Litchfield M. E. church, who easily sustained their reputation for serving good dinners, for it was surely a bountiful repast in every sense of the word. In the afternoon the races and base ball game between East Athens and Vawter took place. The ball game resulted in a victory for Vawter by a score of 6 to 8. In the evening a concert was given by the Misses Moore of Wyoming Seminary, and music was furnished by Mr. Moore on the graphophone. This entertainment was of the highest order and was greatly enjoyed. The Litchfield people feel greatly indebted to Mr. Moore and daughters for the valuable services they rendered in making the day a success. A neat sum will be realized by the Ladies' Aid society when all the expenses are paid.

Japan will keep fussing around till we call out the First ward reserves and give them the trimming of their lives.

THE NEW MILK LAW.

Must Use Wine Measure Instead of Dry Measure, as Heretofore.

The new law, which affects all milk dealers, now in effect, makes it plain that hereafter all milk sales must be made by liquid or wine measure instead of by dry measure. The new law makes it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale, either wholesale or retail, any milk, skim milk or cream according to any other standard of measurement than that known as the liquid or wine measure, containing 231 inches to the gallon. By weight or percentage of butter fat, milk, skim and cream may be sold.

Any viloator shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $100 with costs of prosecution, or undergo imprisonment not exceeding 30 days or both, in the discretion of the court.

Recent tests in the State bureau of health laboratory have shown that about 50 per cent. of the milk sold in the various section of the state is below the standard required by the state law in regard to the amount of nutritious matter. Many samples also contained a very excessive number of bacteria and may lead to sickness during the Summer months.

The supreme court of Iowa has reversed the verdict of a jury because the district attorney who had secured it had invoked the "unwritten law" in his summing-up address. The "unwritten law" doesn't go in this country except when it is pleaded in behalf of a defendant.

In a few words the Chester Times points out what the requirements are to make a city beautiful, when it says: "After all is said and done nothing contributes more towards a city beautiful than good sidewalks, fine trees, street lights, and clean streets. In the meantime, see that there is a good sewage system, with plenty of good water."

In a short time the government will issue $40,000,000 in one and two-dollar notes, to take the place of silver certificates of larger denominations, not to mention the new five and ten-dollar gold notes to be issued against the gold reserve and in place of larger gold notes. There should be no further complaint of the scarcity of small bills in the hands of the people, for a time, at least.

Alaska produced $17,727,727 in gold for ten months ending April 30, 1907, which amounts to two and one-half times the sum originally paid for that territory by the United States. The value of the gold received from Alaska during a like period in 1904, the first for which statistics are available, was $5,895,091. The gold shipments have therefore, trebled in value during the last three years.

Investigation by a prominent Chicago newspaper on the conditions among the women workers throughout the country reveals that a number of young women who earn $15 a week at piece work, while the shop girls who earn that pay at the counter are few. Besides, before reaching the age of 25 more than half the factory girls have left the business, and most of them have left to get married.

What a pleasure it will be to sleep in Texas hotels after July 12, when the new state law goes into effect providing that all beds must be equipped with sheets at least nine feet long. Men who have suffered long and profanely from having to make rail fences of themselves to avoid protruding from the sheets too much at one end or the other, will be ready to forgive Texas many of her past sins for that act.

Do not be startled by a crash of thunder. No man ever heard the shock by which he was killed. Lightning travels at an inconceivable swiftness in a second, while thunder, like the report of a cannon, passes more slowly through the atmosphere. The proximity of danger from lightning is easily discoverable by observing the length of time which passes between its flash and the report of thunder; for lightning and thunder always acompany each other simultaneously; but at a distance the lightning is perceived almost instantaneously.

A number of years back a burly Western Kansas man gave his nephew, a lad of 15 years, an unmerited chastising. That boy promised his assailant a like compliment when he became a man, and he did not forget the words uttered in the heat of passion. The uncle was about his duties on the farm one day last Winter when a husky six-footer came up and gave him a glorious thumping. It was the 15 years old nephew, only he was six years older. Then the uncle sued for $1,000 for personal injuries inflicted. An unsympathetic jury couldn't see it that way and he took the case to the supreme court. Last week that august body handed down a decision affirming the lower court's decision.

THE JAMES STREET BRIDGE.

Elsewhere in this paper is published a communication from Hon. F. N. Moore relative to the James street bridge and a rejoinder thereto by Charles M. Hall, Esq. The subject discussed is of so much general interest that it is not necessary to urge upon our readers the need of reading these communications; nor is it necessary, perhaps, to comment here upon them, for it must be conceded by all fair-minded readers, that Mr. Hall's letter is a complete answer to the weak and unfair arguments of Mr. Moore. The objections urged against this great public improvement by the latter gentleman are, for the most part, so irrelevant, and his statement of facts so distorted, that they do neither his intelligence or his fairness credit. His letter is, in fact, a demagogical appeal to the selfish instincts, the ignorance and the prejudices of a class, who to save a few dollars in taxes, would deny many people their just rights, stop all public improvements, and, if need be, even sacrifice human life and limb themselves. It does its author no credit nor the cause he so speciously advocates, any benefit, for we are loath to believe that fair-minded, intelligent citizens of this great county, who happily are in the large majority, will endorse the narrow views expressed by Mr. Moore.

As illustrating the spirit which prevades the whole argument of Mr. Moore only a single sentence from his letter is necessary. He says: "The sentiment in favor of it (the bridge) is artificial, having been manufactured by corporation attorneys and county treasury parasites. It will accommodate only a few farmers of Eastern Bradford, the L. V. R. R., and the Towanda Club house patrons." As a fitting companion to this is the following, also taken from his letter: "With real estate decreasing in value from year to year, and the taxpayers groaning under their burdens, farms being vacated, rental property not bringing enough rent to pay taxes and repairs, people selling their property for what they can get and moving into other states, where taxes are not so high, a floating indebtedness of about $50,000 on the county, and just having paid for an expensive court house which reflects no credit on the intelligence of the builders, a few people get busy to see where there can be more money spent and thus continue the high rate of taxation." As a fitting climax he adds: "With taxes unreasonably and unnecessarily high, with an accumulating indebtedness on the county, with almost certain crop failure staring us in the face, how long do you think the taxpayers of Bradford county will stand for this kind of business?"

What an appalling bugaboo it is that Mr. Moore has reared in opposition to the building of this bridge—in his own imagination! What a distressing picture it is—if it were true—but happily it is not true, as every intelligent citizen knows. But it well illustrates by what specious and silly arguments Mr. Moore is compelled to resort to bolster up an unworthy cause. It is evident that the Right Honorable is indebted to his prejudices for his jests, and to his imagination for his facts. It must be fairly conceded that as a calamity-howler the gentleman from Windham is a jem of the first water and more than double discounts the late lamented Sockless Jerry whose methods he emulates and whose worthy successor he would be. But, it is by such untruthful and flimsy arguments that Mr. Moore hopes to array public sentiment against the James street bridge and deny to a long suffering people the rights and benefits accorded to their neighbors and toward which they have time and again contributed their hard earned money. We greatly misconceive the temper, the intelligence and the fair mindedness of our people, if they do not willingly accord to those who are demanding this greatly needed improvement the same fair treatment they themselves have received.

It will be noted that Mr. Moore ignores almost entirely the one reason which more than all others should have weight in the minds of fair-minded people in determining the building of this bridge. We refer to the dangerous highway through the narrows and along the railroad tracks of the Lehigh Valley railroad opposite Towanda. More than a mile the traveler who uses this road is compelled literally to take his life in his hands. Again and again human life and property have been sacrificed to say nothing of the diversion of trade, the inconvenience and financial loss to the people of Towanda and adjoining townships. And who shall say that this one fact in favor of the James street bridge does not outweigh all the flimsy arguments made against it by Mr. Moore?

There never was, in the history of Bradford county, an instance, where so many people have asked for a county bridge, and never an instance where its necessity was so great and so clearly demonstrated. And, it may be added, that it will be found, after this bridge has been built—and it surely will be—that it will give greater benefits and greater satisfaction than any bridge ever built in the county.

And this is the bridge to whose building Mr. Moore is so bitterly opposed.

Ex-State Treasurer Mathues cut as poor a figure as any of the rest before the Capitol Investigation commission. The excuse is the same that Adam gave in the garden of Eden—"The woman persuaded me." All cry Huston deceived and persuaded them.

OUR FRIENDSHIPS.

We cannot live to ourselves alone. We may be insular and solitary at times, yet we are sadly bereft if we have no friends. "Life is to be fortified by friendships." It is wise, therefore, to mingle as much as possible with persons whose association with us is likely to be uplifting should it ripen into friendship. As a rule, the intimacies from which we derive the greatest pleasure are made when we are young. Persons rarely cultivate new friendships after they arrive at middle life. They form new acquaintances, but these alliances are likely to lack the depth and warmth of attachment that binds us to the friends of youth. It is extremely important that parents should see to it that their young charges are brought up in an environment that will give them proper associates. Place two children together who have never met before. In half an hour or so they have established a friendship which may last through life. Adults are more wary. They are not quite sure whether the new associate has the possibility of a good friend in him. There is a period of uncertainty as to the relation. It may never get beyond a casual acquaintanceship. Happily there are exceptional natures with a measureless capacity for friendship which continue to garner new intimacies through life. Friendship may pall by excess. Friendly persons may meet to often. There is no close relation connubial, filial, fraternal, which is not improved by occasional intervals of separation. We value home the more if we absent ourselves for a season. Affection that wearies is on the wane.

A NEW STAR.

Today, Thursday, July 4, a new star will be added to the United States flag, to represent the State of Oklahoma, which was admitted to the Union at the last session of congress. The law provides that there shall be one star for each state, but there is no provision as to how these stars shall be arranged. Custom has decreed, however, that this arrangement should be left to the decision of the War and Navy departments.

The new flag will have 46 stars, as there are now 46 states in the Union. The War and Navy departments shall be grouped in six parallel rows; the first, third, fourth and sixth to contain eight stars, and the second and fifth to contain seven stars. This decision is a result of the discussion of the question of a change in arrangement of the stars, with a view to a subsequent addition of two stars when Arizona and New Mexico are admitted as states, in which event there will be six rows of eight stars.

The War and Navy departments received numerous suggestions, some of them from many sources, including school children in various parts of the country, and from patriotic societies, anxious to be the author of a new flag. It was decided, however, that it would be better to adhere to the simple form, which did not offer any geometrical violence to the traditional arrangement of stars in the flag with which the people had become acquainted, and which has prevailed for the last 90 years.

PAYING THE PIPER.

The fact that many of the charitable institutions in this state are overcrowded has been commented upon frequently, but there are few persons who realize that this overcrowding is the result of lowering the bars to criminal and insane foreigners. Thousands of foreigners are confined in the jails, lunatic asylums and almshouses in this state, the cost of their maintenance coming out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

Very few of the foreigners who are confined in state and county institutions are taxpayers. They come to this country to escape punishment for their crimes or with the expectation that a rich nation such as ours will be willing to maintain them in idleness, and they finally gravitate to the almshouses or asylums. A large part of the money appropriated by the state for the maintenance of charitable institutions is contributed to the support of foreigners who pay not one dollar into the state treasury.

The state would save many thousands of dollars if these foreign paupers and criminals were deported.—Williamsport News.

The need of farm help in the West is very pressing. So much so that Gov. Hoch of Kansas and T. B. Gerow, director of the free employment bureau of Topeka, have asked the transcontinental roads to get together at once and grant a rate of one cent a mile for parties of farm laborers from Eastern points. A similar request was sent to the interstate commerce commission urging the necessity of such a measure to enable the farmers to harvest the wheat crop. Several thousand more men are needed, it is said, in Kansas alone, while from other points in the West a lack of farm help is reported.

Just for a joke, four young men slipped up behind an old man who was sleeping on a New York city pier, and pushed him into the water. He struck his head against the pier and was drowned. To continue the joke, these jokers should get the full term in State prison applying to manslaughter, and then the humorous incident would be closed.

After all, the majority of us will find the ordinary common school branches of far more use than the higher studies in our travel through the world. If we can spell, read well, cypher a little and understand something about the construction of the language, we'll be pretty well off.

GROWING TEMPERATE.

Francis Murphy was the most effective anti-rum crusader this country has heard since John B. Gough's time, though not the born comedian turned lecturer that Gough was. His success in persuading people to take the pledge has hardly been equalled or approached since Father Theobald Mathew's time. He lived to see the great change that has come over the land in the line of temperance. When he was but four years old we fought a great Presidential campaign with the log cabin and hard cider as rallying battle cries. Think of rum now adding to a party's strength as a symbol! Mr. Murphy has seen millions of workmen made temperate or teetotalers because in certain lines of business, like railroading, telegraphing, navigation and so on, no drinking man will be employed or long maintained. He has seen the day that society frowns upon the man seen drunk and wine is not displayed upon the occasion of New Year calls. He has seen that rum, whiskey and all ardent spirits have been largely relegated to the rear, even in the South, where in the old days what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina was not a joke and where it was true Davy Crockett courtesy for the host to turn his back and look out of the window as he handed a jug and tin cup to his visitor. There is enough of temperance sentiment in several states and many counties to pass local option laws. The general struggle for existence has made men more temperate and "moral suasion" is still working a beneficent influence. It is true our drink bill is still very large, but this does not show we are intemperate, for we have turned from rum to beer and light wines and but a relatively few use them to excess. Temperance is not necessarily teetotalism, but a rational and very moderate use of wine. Measured by that definition, we are happily becoming more and more a temperate nation.

After Monday it will be legal for the United States treasury department to issue gold certificates of the denomination of $10, the limit heretofore having been $20. The change was made by congress in compliance with the public demand for smaller bills. But it is not going to be any easier to get the new notes without an equivalent in the shape of work or material than it is now to get other denominations.

It is still true that carelessness in hearing a bit of news is frequently responsible for the circulation of an alarming but absolutely unfounded report. This occurs almost every day, and we presume it will continue to do so until human nature receives a fresh endowment of the virtue of attention.

Down in New Jersey the other day a lady was quite pleasantly surprised by receiving a package of jewelry which had been stolen from ner exactly a year before their return. She thinks the conscience of the thief was too much for him. Quite likely. Conscience has forced restitution on many occasions.

THE AMERICAN NAVY.

Amid the lively discussion of the probable movement of battleships and cruisers to and from the Pacific it may be of some interest to make a brief review of the actual force of the American navy. According to official returns there are 276 vessels of the navy fit for service or "under repair." Of first-class battleships there are 16 fit for service and 12 under construction or authorized by congress, inclusive of the two "Dreadnoughts." One lonely second-class battleship figures in the list. There are six full armored cruisers and six under construction. Besides there are 20 "protected" cruisers, two under construction and three that are "unprotected." As souvenirs of the Civil war there are ten single and double-turret monitors, now used for harbor defense. The rest consist of gunboats, torpedo-boat destroyers, submarine torpedo boats, hospital and supply ships, yachts and all the usual auxiliaries of naval warfare.

For manning this navy there are 32,000 enlisted men and 2,322 officers, besides the Marine Corps, with 8,000 men and 276 officers. Then we have a trained militia for emergencies, consisting of 453 officers and 4,620 men. In comparative strength the British navy is first, that of France second, and it a close contest as to weight of metal and number of men between the United States and Germany. The British navy has more than double the strength of any other two.

On the part of those who do not make much distinction between cruisers and battleships it is insisted that the effective force of the navy be sent to the Pacific coast as the more probable scene of future war. Those who do make the distinction urge that the battleships be sent at once to the Philippine Islands to meet any hostile movement of the Japanese. As it would be a long voyage for these slow-going ships around Cape Horn or through the Straits of Magellan, the suggestion is made that they be sent to Manila by the shortest route—through the Suez Canal.

The dispatch of a great fleet of armored cruisers or battleships (or both) to the Pacific coast and thence to Manila, which Secretary Metcalf and the Advisory Naval Board appear to be seriously contemplating, would require the accompaniment of a large auxiliary force of torpedo boats, torpedo-boat destroyers, hospital and supply chips and coal transports. Without these the great sea monster would be comparatively helpless. An advantage of the movement would be to revive in some degree the country's trade with the Philippines, which has been somewhat languishing since a considerable portion of the army has been withdrawn from the islands. There is not likely to be any other, since in spite of the Jingoes little present or remote danger exists of a disturbance of the world's peace by the United States and Japan, in the Philippines or anywhere else.—Philadelphia ecord.

At the time of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence in 1776 our republic embraced only 652,000 square miles of territory, and extended only from the Atlantic seaboard to the Allegheny mountains, with a population of 3,000,000. Today, however, our domain consists of more than 3,500,000 square miles, including Alaska, but not including our new Spanish possessions in the Orient, while our population is fast climbing toward the hundred million mark.

A Minnesota bank official has been arrested on the charge of borrowing $13,000 from the bank through the agency of a "straw man." This is picnic weather. The country is looking its very best. The foliage of the trees is of the greenest, and the fields are not yet shorn of their grass and grain. It is the time to see what our great county is at its best, and everybody ought to make repeated visits to take a look.

Old people often speak of the changes that have taken place in a neighborhood or town. The number of inhabitants of a country is almost renewed every 30 years, and in an age the human race is renewed three and one-third times.

Of Mr. Kaufman, The Scrantonian says: "Brilliant Attorney. The above heading fits nicely to the case of young Morgan S. Kaufman, whose offices are in the Mears building. He has been engaged to defend the man accused as an accomplice in the horrible crime committed in Dunmore during the week, an account of which appears in another section of this paper. Regular Monthly Meeting of County Society Held Tuesday Afternoon.

The Bradford County Medical society held their regular monthly meeting in the grand jury room in the court house Tuesday afternoon. A very profitable afternoon was spent during which the following papers were read: "Little Tumors," by Dr. C. M. Pratt, and "Lymph Treatment," by Dr. S. M. Woodburn.

Dr. S. M. Woodburn was elected District Censor for the ensuing year. Dr. P. M. Banker was elected delegate to the meeting of the State Medical society to be held at Reading in September, and Dr. G. H. B. Terry and Dr. C. M. Woodburn were chosen as alternates.

The members present were: Dr. E. N. Shepard of Burlington, Dr. P. N. Barker of Troy, Dr. G. H. B. Terry of Wyalusing, Dr. J. N. Philips of Troy, Dr. Francis Chaffee, Dr. C. M. Pratt, Dr. S. M. Woodburn, Dr. E. D. Payne, and Dr. C. M. Woodburn of Towanda. Dr. A. D. Nesbit of Tekamah, Neb., was a visitor at the meeting.

Cow Killed by Lightning.

During the thunder storm which passed over Towanda Monday afternoon, lightning struck a large hickory tree in a field near Oak Hill cemetery and instally killed a cow belonging to James Scott which was standing under the tree. There were several other cows under the same tree and only a few feet away, but none of them were injured.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY SEAT.

VALUABLE DOG SLAIN.

Chicken Thieves Lay Low Canine That Interfered in Their Business.

Porter Northrop of Hawes street, Toytown, offers a reward of $10 for information which will lead to the arrest of the party who on Sunday morning early, slew his watch dog.

Saturday midnight the dog had trouble with someone prowling around Mr. Northrop's chicken coop, after which nothing more wes heard of the canine until his dead carcass was found on the railroad track a short distance below the old Lehigh depot, Sunday morning. There were no marks nor bullet holes, or anything to show what caused the animal's death. Mr. Northrop has made diligent search and inquiry among the railroaders, and is satisfied that the dog was not struck with a train, as no cars moved below the old depot and where the dog was found after midnight Saturday.

The dog was a valuable one, and highly prized by Mr. Northrop. Around the neck of the canine when last seen alive was a collar and the tax tag No. 222. When the dog was first found near the track, the collar and tag were still intact, but a short time later when Mr. Northrop went to get the carcass for burial, the collar and tag were both strangely missing.

May Not Attend Convention.

Members of the different companies comprising the Towanda Fire department met in the Franklin parlors Friday evening, and discussed the matter of attending the Five County convention at Galeton on July 25-26. So far the best rate the railroad has offered is two cents a mile each way and if a lower rate cannot be secured, Towanda will not be represented at the convention. At least three of the five companies would attend if a reasonable rate could be secured, but two cents a mile each way, has put a deadener on the enthusiasm, and the chances are that not one of Towanda's five companies will be in line in the parade on July 26. The matter of a lower fare has been taken up to the highest railroad authority and a determined effort is being made to secure at least as low a rate as has been granted in years gone by.

Former Towandians Honored.

Ira Aldrich and wife of Watsontown, joined a party at Harrisburg, on the fifth of July for the express purpose of sight seeing in that city. At this time of the year the parks are at the height of beauty. A student from Lehigh university acting as guide showed them through the capitol explaining the grandeur of that immense building. They sat in the Governor's reception room, also the senators' reception room and office, with a friendly shake of hands with the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania. Then the elevator conveyed them to the dome for a grand view of the city. The next place of interest was viewing St. Joseph's cathedral, nearing its final completion, an ornament to the city of Harrisburg.

Assaulted Wrong Man.

Late news from Wells township, is to the effect that Leander Walker, the young man stabbed by an Italian last Wednesday night was not in the altercation which led up to the assault, but was evidently mistaken by the Italians for some one else. Walker was attending a dance in the hall at Mosherville and had left the hall but a minute before he was set upon and terribly injured by a crowd of Italians. He received deep gashes in the side, shoulder, abdomen and other places, and is in a critical condition. The Italians were working on the new macadam road in Wells township and after slashing Walker several of them fled and have not been apprehended. Tumus, the man in the county jail charged with cutting Walker, is believed to be the one who wielded the knife.

What "Fair" Means.

It is found that there are many among the general public who believe that the term "fair" as used in the weather forecanst means clear sky. It has no reference whatever to the condition of the sky as regards clouds, the terms to indicate clouds being, "clear," "partly cloudy," and "cloudy." "Fair" means no rain, or not more than a sprinkle or very light shower.

Much Traveling Necessary.

There are some 100 churches within the bounds of the Lackawanna Presbytery, which comprises the counties of Wayne, Bradford, Susquehanna, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Wyoming, and Sullivan. Of these churches 60 are under the especial care of Rev. Dr. P. H. Brooks of Wilkes-Barre, necessitating his traveling over 5,000 every year.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

"Ever Glorious Fourth" Quietly Observed in the County Seat.

BIG CROWDS AT CELEBRATIONS

Many Towandians Spent the Day at Monroeton, Ulster, Owego and Other Towns Where Celebrations Were Held—No Accidents Reported.

The Fourth, passed off in Towanda and vicinity, without special incident, and as far as can be learned no accidents marred the pleasures of the day. Towanda was as quiet as the tomb. Ever and anon a small fire cracker would pop as some Young American would with a match give vent to enthusiasm, occasionally a report of a pistol or a giant cracker would break the stillness but otherwise in the county seat, silence reigned supreme. Main street was barren of humanity, the buildings loomed up in the sunshine, scarce a person was visible, the old town being seemingly deserted for a day. Monroeton, Ulster, Owego, Mountain Lake, LeRaysville, Rome Lake Wesauking, and shady nooks in the dales and along the picturesque Susquehanna claimed the populace, and thus the day was spent by Towandians.

Towanda Gun Club Shoot.

The members of the Towanda Gun club, enjoyed a spirited contest in markmanship on the East Towanda range during the afternoon. The event of the shoot was the struggle for the club badge which was won for the second time this season by W. F. Dittrich. There was a pretty contest for the trophy between Mr. Dittrich and Port Gregg of Towanda township. They tied twice and on the third shoot off Mr. Dittrich made the best score and pulled down the coveted badge.

Wysox Defeated Towanda Team.

In the forenoon on the East Side grounds picked teams from Wysox and Towanda, played a five inning game, Wysox winning 3-2.

Dance in St. Agnes Hall.

Many young people of Towanda were entertained at St. Agnes hall in the evening at a social and dance under the auspices of the congregation of the Church of SS. Peter and Paul. There was a large attendance and a most enjoyable time was had. Clancy's orchestra furnished the music.

Big Crowd at Monroeton.

Monroeton had a big celebration and entertained as only Monroe people can entertain one of the largest crowds in the history of the old town. A program of races and other events was carried out but the principal features of the celebration were two ball games between Monroeton and the strong Laquin team. Monroeton won the morning game by a score of 9-1. In the afternoon Laquin turned the tables and walloped Monroeton 8-3. Northrop of Bucknell university pitched both games for Monroeton, Dunfee officiating behind the bat. Rockwell also pitched both games for Laquin, with Lilley catching. The Laquin cornet band furnished music for the celebration.

Ulster Celebration a Success.

The celebration at Ulster under the auspices of the Hiawatha Athletic club was in every way, there being a large crowd in attendance, and everything passed off without a hitch or an accident. Like the Monroeton celebration, two ball games were the principal features. In the morning game Ulster won from Canton by a score of 15-0. In the afternoon contest, Ulster won after a hard struggle, the score being 5-4.

DIPHTHERIA AT WAVERLY.

Christian Science Family and Healer All Under Quarantine.

Health Officer Carpenter of Waverly, was notified Monday that two children named Carpenter, residing at No. 30 Pine street, in that village, were ill with sore throat and that the family were believers in the Christian Science faith and did not have a physician. He called and examined the children and found them both ill with diphtherja and quarantined the house.

The family wanted to call in the Christian Science healer but the doctor informed them that the law did not recognize anyone but registered physicians and that if the healer came he would be quarantined in the house.

Mr. Grace, the healer, was allowed to come in spite of the doctor's instructions. A guard has been stationed at the house and he reported at 8 o'clock Monday evening that the man was in the house. The health officer gave instructions that he should be kept there during the quarantine.

SHERIFF GRIFFIN NOT SLIGHTED.

George Carter Kept His Promise and Will Spend 20 Days in Jail.

George Carter, boozy, boastful and bewildered, was arrested Friday night by Officer Allen and on Saturday morning was given 20 days in the county jail by Burgess Foyle.

A few days ago Carter, who has figured more or less in local police circles, serving many terms in jail, called upon Sheriff Griffin and in introducing himself, informed the sheriff that he had served time in the county jail under every sheriff that had been in office during the past quarter of a century. "Well, you don't want to slight me," the genial Mr. Griffin told him, whereupon Carter replied, "Oh, I won't. I'll be up to spend a few weeks with you," and he has kept his promise.

WAS NOT CACIONNE.

Man Arrested in Wilkes-Barre Not Waverly Murderer.

It developed Saturday that the man arrested in Wilkes-Barre Friday night was not Angelina Cacionne, who shot and killed a man in Waverly, Wednesday night.

Officer Corcoran of Waverly, who knows Cacionne by sight, went to Wilkes-Barre Saturday, and after one glance at the accused, declared he was not the man.

As a result of the confession of the cousin of Cacionne, in Binghamton, Friday night, there is little doubt but that Cacionne is one of the men who were mixed up in the riot in Archibald several weeks ago, in which a number of men were seriously wounded.

Talented Vocalist Secured.

Messrs. Duke and Juhling, proprietors of the Lyric theatre in the Foster block, have secured the services of Miss Charlotte L. Young, of Towanda, for the singing of popular songs which will hereafter be a feature of the new theatre. Miss Young is one of the most talented and best vocalists in this section, and she will sing Charles K. Harris's latest and most popular selections, illustrated with beautiful colored pictures, rendering three new songs each week, commencing tomorrow, Thursday evening, with the "Best Thing in Life." Excellent Picture of C. B. Porter.

In a few days there will be placed in the parlors of the Lin-ta Hose company, a beautiful portrait of the late Clark B. Porter, who for many years was president of the company. The picture is of the new Vandyke style, 25x38 inches in size and is encased in a heavy solid antique gold frame. The picture is a most excellent one of Mr. Porter, portraying his features in natural colors in a very striking manner. It was made by the Sprague & Hathaway company of Boston, the largest concern of its kind in the world, and was purchased by the Lin-ta company through William J. Fisher of Towanda, who is Eastern representative of the Sprague & Hathaway company.

Family Dinner.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mouillesseaux, on Fourth street, Sunday, was the scene of a very delightful affair, which was in the nature of a re union of the Mouillesseaux family. The family circle was complete with the exception of Ralph Mouillesseaux, who could not be present, and for the first time in eight years the family assembled in the old home, and gathered around the family tree. Those present beside the parents were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mouillesseaux, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mouillesseaux, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mouillesseaux and baby, and Charlotte Mouillesseaux.

THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Three Alleged Towandians Arrested in Tioga County, N. Y.

The Owego Gazette of Thursday says: "Three Towanda, Pa., men, who gave their names as Harry Parks, Edwin Parks, and Harry Madden, were arrested Sunday afternoon by Chief of Police Allen, Special Officer Barry, and Sheriff Parmelee, on the charge of public intoxication and were committed to the county jail. Monday morning they pleaded guilty. Each was sentenced to imprisonment in the Tioga county jail for 30 days. The three men were on their way from Apalachin to Towanda with a horse and a carriage. On the way to Owego, between this village and Hiawatha island, they met Frank Hickock, who was driving a lady and gentleman to a Summer cottage.

"The three Towanda men, insisted upon taking the whole road and nearly upset the carriage driven by Hickok, and when reasoned with they abused the cottage party, and in spite of the presence of the lady invited them to fight and used many vile names. Hickok notified the sheriff and the arrests were made. These three men had been peeling bark South of Apalachin for a few weeks."

GREAT VAN AMBURG SHOWS.

Waterproof Tents—Rain Will Not Spoil the Exhibition.

A sudden downpour of rain or a long-continued drizzle will have no effect on the patrons of the great Van Amburg show when it exhibits in Towanda, on Saturday, June 20. The reason of this will be apparent to everyone who sees the huge tents that will be erected here for the performance. They are all constructed of "mercerized" ducking. This marvelous invention for the waterproofing of material has been in use for rain coats, but up to this year has never been used for tents. People who have used "mercerized" cloth know how it sheds water, and it was the knowledge of this that caused the Van Amburg show to have all their tents made out of this material. It is quite a stride in advance of other shows, but it is only in keeping with the progressiveness of the management of these shows. Beneath these tents spectators can sit in comfort and ease during the heaviest of rains and be as dry as if in the finest theater in the country. This is only one of the many novelties that have been added to these shows this season.

It is respectfully suggested that the children attend the afternoon exhibition, where ample time is given to view the large menagerie, likewise avoiding night crowds. Uniformed ushers will attend every want of the little folks, and care and attention paid to ladies and children is the first consideration of the management.

The only big circus that will visit Towanda this year is the Great Van Amburg Shows, and the date is Saturday, July 20.

Reminder of Old Times.

About the only conveyance here that reminds us of the mode of travel 30 years ago is the Rome stage. It leaves here daily for the little village ten miles away. With its cow bells tingling to the tune of the horses' hoofs, with boxes and bales piled high on the rear, and even the top, and six or eight passengers crowded in the seats, away it goes over the roads, carrying its precious freight as safely as the modern steam car. All the outfit lacks to emphasize the old Billy Cody Indian coach is a hold-up on the roads, which it will never have, as there are no Indians or cowboys hereabouts to produce that play. To those who want to live the "simple life" we highly recommend a ride through the valley in this last relic of the days when our forefathers had no other kind of conveyance.—Bradford Argus.

Thrown From Carriage.

John Sweeney of Pond Hill, was painfully injured Fourth of July night in Towanda, by being thrown from a carriage. Mr. Sweeney was driving along on Main street about 10:30, when his horse took fright, running away and throwing him from the carriage to the pavement. He was picked up unconscious, and carried into Coon's restaurant, where Dr. C. M. Woodburn attended him. After a little while he recovered sufficiently to go home. The horse was stopped before any damage was done.

Handsome Dividend.

The Adams Express company has just declared a dividend of 200 per cent. on its capital stock, which amounts to the neat little sum of $24,000,000 to be divided among its share holders.

FAIRBANKS A HERO.

Jumps Into Yellowstone Lake and Rescues a Girl.

WATER THIRTY FEET DEEP.

Young Woman In Peril a Hotel Waitress—Vice President Pulls Her Out and Helps Restore Her to Consciousness.

Yellowstone Lake, Yellowstone Park, Wyo., July 9.—Vice President Fairbanks leaped into thirty feet of water and saved a young woman from drowning. The girl rescued was Miss Lena Wallace, a waitress at the Lake hotel.

Manager Gibbs of the hotel and the vice president were in earnest conversation on the piazza of the hotel when a boat containing Miss Wallace and some friends moved up to the pier. A shriek came from the lake as the boat stopped, and Mr. Fairbanks noticed a commotion among the few persons at the pier. He saw somebody struggling in the water, and, springing from the piazza, closely followed by Mr. Gibbs, he ran at top speed toward the lake.

The woman in the water had sunk a second time before Mr. Fairbanks reached the pier, but he jumped into the lake and caught hold of her clothing.

The arrival of the vice president and Mr. Gibbs had aroused the two men, stupefied by fright, who were in the boat, and one of them leaped into the water along with the vice president. He succeeded also in getting hold of the woman's dress. She was brought quickly to the pier, and the vice president assisted in carrying her to the hotel piazza. Mr. Fairbanks worked energetically over the half dead woman till evidences of returning life were manifested, and then, almost exhausted, he turned his charge over to the care of others.

Two Girls Met Five Bears.

Richmond, Va., July 9.—Miss Caroline S. Barnes of Watkins, N. Y., and Miss Isabel M. Chandler of Ithaca, N. Y., were much startled while walking down the mountain from Mount Elliott Springs to come upon two old bears and three cubs feeding in a field. Not realizing the nature of the animals at first, the young women approached, and one of the old animals, evidently thinking the intruders were after the cubs, showed fight. The young women ran screaming back to the hotel. Miss Barnes was completely overcome and required the services of a physician.

H. Clay Pierce Loses Three Sailors.

New York, July 9.—After insisting upon crowding into a rowboat which they had been warned was too small to hold them all safely, seven men, six of them employed on the steam yacht Yacoma, owned by Henry Clay Pierce of the Standard Oil company, rowed out into a storm that was raging over the North river and were swamped off West Seventy-second street about 200 yards from the Jersey shore. Four of the men were saved by a tugboat crew under the searchlight from the yacht, but the other three are missing, and it is feared they are drowned.

Carter was to precipitate an attack.

PEOPLE'S FORUM.

HON. F. N. MOORE'S OBJECTION TO THE PROPOSED JAMES STREET BRIDGE

Editor Reporter-Journal:—

In the issue of the Reporter-Journal of June 27, there was an article advocating the building of the James stree bridge. The principal argument seemed to be that Towanda wants the bridge. Let us consider a few facts.

1. There is a good bridge within one mile of this proposed structure.

2. Bradford county has built and is maintaining more bridges across the Susquehanna river than any other county between Otsego Lake and the Chespeake Bay.

3. The assessed valuation of real estate in Bradford county is higher than any other county in Pennsylvania, being from 10 to 25 percent more than the property would sell for at public sale. (

4. The tax-rate is higher on a presumed cash valuation of property than that of any other county in this state.

5. The expense of running our county is more per capita than any other county in the state. Why should this be

The people of Bradford county are not asking for this bridge. Not 20 per cent. of the tax payers, Towanda included, want it built. The sentiment in favor of it is artificial, having been manufactured by corporation attorneys and county treasury parasites, It will accommodate only a few farmers of Eastern Bradford, the L. V. R. R., and the Towanda Clubhouse patrons.

The road along the narrows is no worse or more dangerous than many other side hill roads in this county. If Wysox township will not fix it, why not take the gentlemen boarding on the county and put them at work on it? If our county officials have got the right kind of vertabrae they can make them work.

With real estate decreasing in value from year to year, and the tax-payers groaning under their burders, farms being vacated, rental property not bringing enough rent to pay taxes and repairs, people selling their property for what they can get and moving into other states where taxes are not so high, a floating indebtedness of about $50,000 on the county, and just having paid for an expensive court house, which reflects no credit on the intelligence of the builders, a few people get buisy to see where there can be more money spent and thus continue the high rate of taxation.

Between the proposition of building a county asylum and the James street bridge, they center on the idea to build a bridge 1400 feet long at a cost of more than $100,000, with nothing but a debt of $50,000 and over taxed people to build with.

By way of comparison the Wysox bridge is 800 feet long and cost $55,000.

It is said the L. V. R. R. will contribute $20,000 provided the bridge is continued over their tracks, which will cause some of the abutements to be 55 feet high. Will that amount pay more than one-half of the additional expenses?

If Towanda is so burdened witth taxes that it cannot afford lights, and like the farmer have the lanterns, let its citizens devise some other means than turning their wishful eyes toward the county treasury.

With taxes unreasonably and unnecessarily high, with an accumulating indebtedness on the county, with almost certain crop failure staring us in the face, how long do you think the tax-payers of Bradford county will stand for this kind of business?

Respectfully,
F. N. MOORE.

Rome, Pa., July 6, 1907.

CHARLES M. HALL, ESQ., REPLIES TO MR. MOORE ON BRIDGE QUESTION

Editor of Reporter-Journal:

Although you are a journal printed at the County town of the county of Bradford, yet you have kindly published the letter of F. N. Moore, against every interest of the people and business wellfare of the three Towandas.

Mr. Moore was a former Representative at Harrisburg, and a State Official of some of the newly created exertvagant offices; and as such the burden of proof is upon him, if he ever did anything to help the tax-payers.

Although he writes his letter from Rome, his property upon which he pays taxes is in Windham, but a few miles from the Susquehanna river in the state of New York, where he has always transacted most of his business. He has nothing in common with the residents of the Susquehanna valley in Pennsylvania, and is therefore incompetent to judge or advise, living in the extreme East of the county, the people who live along the Susquehanna river.

He objects to the bridge at James street in North Towanda, and Wysox townships, because Towanda wants the bridge.

True, every man, woman and child that loves the safety of human life, wants this bridge, not only in Towanda and vicinity, but hundreds of farmers and taxpayers in Sheshequin, Wysox, Rome, Litchfield, and all over Bradford county; not only at Sayre, Athens, Asylum, Wyalusing, Asylum, and other points, are fair minded, big hearted taxpayers in favor of fair play to Towanda and the other river townships that will actually use this bridge, but all over Bradford county.

Think of this matter of Fair Play, Mr. Moore. Bradford county has built 127 iron bridges, and is now letting five more, in all 132 iron bridges. Did Mr. Moore and his kicker friends build all these bridges without the help of Towandas, Sheshequin, and Wysox? Did the recalcitrants pay all the taxes that built all these bridges costing at least $450,000, and the towns that want this James street bridge none?

Towandas formerly paid one-fifth of the county tax, now by reason of increase of Sayre and Athens dictrict, less; yet, the people who want this bridge pay at least one-tenth of the tax rate of Bradford county.

We are entitled to this bridge by the golden rule of fair play.

Sheshequin township which is greatly interested in this bridge, (although many would have preferred it at Blackman's Ferry,) has helped build all these bridges and has not a county bridge in Sheshequin township.

If such narrow recalcitrants as Mr. Moore can kill the James street bridge then the next move will be to have the bridge at Blackman's Ferry. Blackman's Ferry as a location would suit Sheshequin people better than James street. Defeat James street and throw away the fine start of $20,000 the Lehigh Valley railroad is bound to pay, and build Sheshequin the bridge at Blackman's Ferry and where will you benefit taxpayers, except on the left hand side? Viewers from the extreme ends of the county have already reported after viewing Blackman's Ferry site, and the dangers of the road, that a bridge was necessary there. Mr. Bull of Wysox, concurred, but refused to say, that it was inexpedient to build in 1902.

Many things that Mr. Moore discusses may be true or not, that have no possible bearing upon the necessity and usefulness of this bridge. Otsego Lake in New York or Chespeak Bay in Maryland, do not concern it. If tax valuations are out of adjustment, there are laws and lawmakers to work at these problems.

It is idle for Mr. Moore to talk about percentages of people who want any given bridge built. That kind of a test would have left Ulster, Wyalusing, Sayre, Athens and Stevens Ferry, still ferrying. If Standing Stone had had a bridge years ago, the life of Bigler Storrs alone, might have compensated it. Progress is the rule, not retrograde work. When the people of the United States get awake, there will be no Bell Telephone company, or little private bloodsuckers, like the Eastern telephone, giving a poor limited service at exorbitant rates. Progress will give us untimately government ownership at least of telephone and telegraph lines, as advocated, by Postmaster General Wanamaker, already 15 years ago; progress will give us better state roads, when less money is stolen at Harrisburg, and progress will give us a bridge that shall render it as safe for farmers of Northeastern Bradford to come into the town where the Courts are held and the public records are kept, as it is safe for Mr. Moore to drive the six or eight miles from his home to the state of New York and its river bridges.

Because Mr. Moore is not with us much, and perhaps, never drove the dangerous narrows, he belittles and misrepresents the dangerous qualities of the road between East Towanda station and the North end of the mountain "Narrows." He compares it to other side hill roads. He would have impossible repairs made by Wysox township or the county prisoners.

Does Mr. Moore think nothing of the fact that for nearly a whole week, the sliding of this mountain interrupted all passenger traffic on the L. V. R. R., and caused that unwilling corporation to transport its passengers from East Towanda, through town to North Towanda?

Does he ignore the fact that within six years a heavy slide shut off all travel on the "Narrows" road for 48 hours?

Does he ignore the destruction of property of David Horton by a falling rock from the mountain above? Does he ignore the repeated narrow escapes of Mail Carrier Martin, from falling rocks? Does he ignore the fact of the killing of Brainard at the grade crossing at the East end of the railroad bridge?

Does he ignore the fact that at least four other human beings have been killed at these grade crossings by L. V. R. R. trains, and that at the present time, there are more trains, faster trains, and longer trains, than ever before? It is simply nearly two miles of death trap?

Will he ignore the fact that the grade crossing at the East end of the railroad bridge is, at this time, more dangerous than it ever has been?

If Mr. Moore does ignore these great dangers we, the people of Towanda, do not. We know they exist. The people of Wysox, Sheshequin, North Towanda and Towanda Township and all who have examined the place, know they exist. Mr. Maynard of Albany, drove up to see the situation and concedes the terrifying dangers of the road. I know a minister of the Gospel who preaches in Sheshequin, who had a hairbreadth escape from instant death at this crossing by the Black Diamond train. He goes that way rather than by Shores Hill or Ulster, because it saves all travelers about 20 minutes in time. Give him the James street bridge, and it will save him 40 minutes in time, and he and hundreds of others can go and come in perfect safety.

Yet, Mr. Morre tries to be facetions over the lives of men, women and children. Has he been hardened by his Spanish war experience to this extent?

Mr. Moore talks about this bridge "being within one mile of a good bridge." He is just as wrong in distance as in logic. Mr. Charles H. Allen, a reliable journalist and river-man, tells me that the distance is nearer two miles than one. However the distance, concerns not the matter when the necessity and dangers to be obviated are so great.

The Bridge can be built for $85,-000, which reduced by $20,000, leaves a net cost of about $65,000. This is about 3¼ mills of tax, which will not have to be paid in any one year. If the county is prudently managed, Mr. Moore, who has a big farm in Windham, assessed at from $19 an acre, down to as low as $5, would have to pay about $30 to build this bridge. Perhaps he would never cross it, many other people would cross it. We Towanda people and others who would cross this bridge, seldom or never in our lives will cross any of the 132 bridges we have helped pay for. It's the old time fable of the stomach and the members. "We are tied together; we cannot be separated, we each and all contribute to the common welfare, and each and all receive directly or indirectly of the benefits."

Again it is not true, that some of the abutments will be 55 feet high. I am informed that 30 to 36 feet is the highest and that from $3,000 to$5,000 will easily pay all the additional expense to safely carry this bridge over the railroad tracks and forever abolish this murderous death trap.

What is that sum of money, or any sum, compared with the human lives already sacrifice by the L. V. R. R. grade crossings?

From 50 to 75 daily trains run at high speed, as high as a mile a minute, since completion of the new bridge. Since the track is stone ballasted, passenger thains are almost noiseless. Again, freight trains, at high speed, from one half to three-fourths of a mile long, are whirled along at a 30 mile speed. If a horse becomes freightened, going North, from East Towanda station, he usually gets intercepted by the train at the crossing. Result must be one of three things: turn around and tip over; go into the river, or run into the railroad bridge. A number of valuable horses have actually been killed in this way in the last ten years at this very place.

If Wysox township in the triflingly simple way suggested by Mr. Moore, could have rendered this "Narrows" road and grade crossing so safe, she would have been very glad to have saved herself and her taxpayers the thousands of dollars spent on the narrows road, and in litigation in the courts of Bradford county by reason of the injuries to good citizens like David Newell and others, who were compelled to travel this dangerous road to get to the county seat.

The gall, of Mr. Moore, towards us unfortunate citizens of Towanda, is shown by his sneer about affording lights.

Pray what did Mr. Moore do for Towanda in repealing the extra burdens of a 20 Mill Borough tax equal to a three fold amount by reason of our increased valuations?

We people of Towanda, are paying for Borough purposes alone, a sum equal to all Mr. Moore pays for all purposes on his low valued holdings in Windham. Not only that, we have helped build four or five iron county bridges for Mr. Moore to cross on his rare visits to the county seat. The Towandas have paid more to build bridges for Mr. Moore and his neighbors to cross, than he and his neighbors can possibly pay to build this James street bridge. Our borough tax alone, is about double the county and poor tax. If because we are in debt $35,000 we choose to economize in lights and help build this James street bridge, that is the last thing Mr. Moore should sneer at us for.

One matter which Mr. Moore entirely ignores, of advantages to the whole county. While farm property has reached its minimum value, and good judges say, that farms are becoming more marketable and at better prices, owing to increased values of dairy products; town property at county seat, is undully depreciated. Hundreds of properties in Towanda are paying taxes on greater value than they will sell for. That is not all, scores have actualy sold for large per centage under assessed values. What does this mean? It means that the county seat of Bradford county is paying far more than its share of the county taxes to build bridges, etc., for Mr. Moore. Now, it is the contention of friends of the James street bridge, that it will counteract this falling tendency in values at the county seat. That in place of asking our assessments to be reduced 30 per cent. it may result in holding them on present levil in justice to our taxpayers. Surely that result, will be a gain to the taxpayers of the entire county. Although Mr. Moore has far larger interests in the state of Missouri, than in Bradford county, even he will get part of this benefit.

It is conceeded by fair minded persons, that this James street bridge will have more travel over it than any river bridge, except the old wooden bridge, and at least half as much travel as it. No other bridge has a $20,000 bonus to help to build with. The necessity is great, the time is auspicious, the county is practically out of debt. The floating indebtedness of $50,00," stated by Mr. Moore to exist, is a night-mare, and not a fact, as can be learned at the Commissioners' office. If it is 1400 feet long, it will be well worth the $65,000 net cost to build it. It will not only be a god-send to Towanda, but to all people of all future generations who travel it; and a road free from murderous grade crossing and dangerous parallels. Help us and Towanda will help you.

Bulldogs and forty-four caliber revolvers have absolutely no place in a civilized community. They are ugly propositions, a menace to life, and a man is a fool to harbor either.

The kind of religion that makes a fellow pay his debts, kind in the home and obliging to his neighbors may be old fashioned, yet a worthy type and one that every community is in need of.

If early or large sized tomatoes are desired, the result may be the more readily attained by giving the vines a vigorous pruning so as to reduce the number of blossoms which are to mature fruit.

The kirk going habit should be encouraged in rural communities more than it is. Besides the moral teaching that may be derived from attendance upon church services, it furnishes a change from the grind of the week, brings one in touch with his neighbors and tends to improve the tone of the family life and sweeten its atmosphere.

There is no plan that is quite so helpful in the solving of a difficulty or misunderstanding as trying to put oneself in the other fellow's place. It tends to broaden one's sympathy and give him a more judicial point of view.

A rag saturated with carbon bisulphide and placed in the woodchuck's hole, the openings of which have been plugged up, will put his woodchuckship out of business in a very short time and without the use of a spade or elbow grease.

Of all weeds in the garden the crab grass is most advantageously killed while small, before it spreads and roots at the joints. This grass is particularly deep rooted, and for this reason thrives in dry weather when many other varieties of weeds dry up.

It is just the same with flowers as with different kinds of fruit and vegetables—the larger the number allowed to grow to maturity the smaller the size obtained. With flowers this rule holds especially true. Restrict the number and thus greatly increase the size and thriftiness of the blossoms.

While there is no use in denying that heredity does exert a powerful influence upon the character and conduct of the human race, it is advisable for the individual man or woman to reduce its influence in his or her own case to the minimum, and rather work on the assumption that life is quite largely what one wills to make out of it.

Every normal American boy is entitled to a day off the Fourth, notwithstanding the weeds in the corn and garden patch, and he should also be provided with a dollar that he may celebrate the day in suitable fashion. If he is denied these two primal rights, the boy has grounds for a kick and need not be blamed if he makes it.

While a great many people have no time for recreation and little for eating, sleeping and acts of neighborly kindness, it is well for them to remember that one has all kinds of time to be sick and die in. Perhaps if this truth were realized somewhat more fully than it is, there would be more leisure for some of these other things.

The prime corn fed 1,500 pound steer is an impossibility in the small local meat market for the very simple reason that the country customer is unwilling to pay a price for the cuts, roasts and boils which will enable the butcher to handle the carcass profitably. The present arrangement is not only easier on the customer's pocketbook, but furnishes him needed exercise for his molars.

The art of entertaining is most completely mastered when it is done most simply and easily. When a hostess turns herself wrongside out to entertain, it not only makes it uncomfortable for herself, but for her guests as well. Your guest will enjoy himself most when he is made to feel most at home and considered as a member of the family. You know this is true because you have been there yourself.

For the first time in the history of the country apples have been imported from Australia during the past two months. Although the home crop was apparently large enough last fall to supply all demands and quantities of apples were exported, late spring found the supply so depleted that prices prevailed which justified the shipment of apples from the country mentioned, a distance of some 10,000 miles.

If there are cows in the dairy herd which are far along in their periods of lactation and the butter is slow in coming, the difficulty may be in part obviated by warming the cream before churning. This may be done by rinsing the churn out with boiling hot water. In a short time after beginning to churn enough hot water may be added to bring the cream up to a temperature of 60 degrees. After the butter comes, it should be washed thoroughly with cold water.

A WHEAT TRUST.

Hundreds of farmers of the great southwest have organized themselves into a trust for the purpose of keeping the price of the wheat they raise at or above a dollar a bushel. It is lucky for the success of the enterprise during the first year of its history that the prospective shortage in the crop as a result of the ravages of the green bug is such as to keep wheat at the level set by the trust without any manipulation of the market or maneuvering of the product. It is extremely doubtful if a combination of this character can be maintained with so many producers in the field and so many of them independent operators. With so many instances of discord in organizations of but limited number it is questionable if a farmers' wheat trust could be successfully managed.

If the proper relations exist between father and son, it will not be necessary for the latter to ask for his time or for the former to give it.

The mildly laxative properties of fruit, coupled with the nutritive elements which it contains, makes it one of the best possible rations for the summer season when it can be secured at a reasonable price and of excellent quality. The person employed in indoor pursuits would be far better off if he consumed much more fruit and a good deal less pork, beef and pastry.

Where one is closely confined at indoor or office work, money spent for a two weeks' vacation during the summer months should not be viewed as a luxury, but a necessity. Money devoted to such use is saved in doctor's bills. With the wife, mother or daughter, who are closely tied with household work, the results are the same and the benefits derived equally valuable.

In order to carry out the notion of a fellow whose theory proved to be better than his practice an Iowa farmer fed the carcasses of hogs that had died of cholera to a pen of hogs which had had the disease, but had recovered, in order to prove that having had the disease rendered them immune. Reports are to the effect that every hog in the pen but one died as a result of the experiment. The fellow is poorer and knows more than he did before.

There is not a pest that the corn plant is subject to that is not greatly mitigated or entirely done away with by a sensible system of crop rotation. The presence of the corn root louse, the corn root worm and the corn bill bug is merely nature's protest at a system of crop management which is fundamentally wrong. And there seems to be no effective means of overcoming the pests named if this wrong system is persisted in. In each case crop rotation is the cure.

While the Chinese are densely ignorant and heathenish and behind Americans in many respects, in the matter of filial devotion and good for the aged they have their more enlightened western contemporaries put to shame. True, a large measure of this may be due to custom and largely perfunctory, but even a perfunctory manifestation of courtesy and respect is preferable to a careless disregard of all the proprieties, an atmosphere that seems to prevail in all too many American homes.

The gasoline traction engine is steadily gaining in popularity in many sections of the country where large farms are operated and where a maximum of horse power is desired at a minimum of bother. With the engine using gasoline as fuel, which is carried in a storage tank, and being oil cooled, the necessity for horses, coal and water is entirely done away. The power produced by the gasoline traction engine is not only more convenient but considerably more economical than horse or steam power.

The gradual increase in land values, coupled with increasing scarcity of farm laborers, points out the wisdom of reducing the size of the average farm. True, with the smaller farm there might not be quite so large a gross return at the end of the year, but there would also be a reduction in the expenses, while all through the season there would be less work and nervous tension, conditions that always exist when things are done on a large scale. If you have not already done so, cut down the size of the farm, reduce the help required and let the wife and children enjoy a few more of the comforts of life and take a few yourself.

Lawing is as a rule a mighty unsatisfactory business and has many disappointments in store for the one who would settle his grudges and grievances thereby. In nine cases out of ten the aggressive party, who is also quite likely to be intolerant and overbearing, will get it in the neck when the jury renders its verdict, and whereas he had hoped to saddle a heavy bill of expense upon the defendant he has the costs to pay out of his own wallet. With some men one adverse dose of this kind is enough. For many others it has no meaning whatever except that it serves to increase their hatred and ill will and intensify their desire to get even.

Recently the department of agriculture has instituted an investigation in the quail disease which is making serious inroads into bobwhite's ranks in several parts of the country where the bird is raised in captivity. The disease is highly contagious and rapidly fatal—the outgrowth of the multiplication of an intestinal germ. While the results of experiments which have been already conducted are not entirely conclusive, it is apparent that filthy quarters are a contributary cause. For this reason strict cleanliness and a disinfection of quarters with lime are recommended. In many respects the disease seems to be closely akin to the grouse disease which English gamekeepers and sportsmen have been fighting for the past seventy-five years.

A ROSE EXPERIENCE.

Those of our readers who are growing roses may be interested in an experience with a Mamon Cochet rose which the writer has had the past winter and spring. With a desire to be good to the plant and at the same time to superinduce a thrifty growth, the pot was half filled with a supply of manure last fall and earth placed on top, in which the rose was set. Before long it was evident that the job of fertilizing had been overdone, as the new leaves that were produced turned yellow and dropped by the time they were two-thirds grown. This operation was repeated at an interval of some seven weeks later, being undoubtedly due to a surplus of fertilizer and an excess of ammonia given off. Finally an equilibrium of soil condition seems to have been restored, and two large thrifty shoots were sent out, which produced roses that were ample reward for all of the pains which had been taken in caring for the plant. Just now an entirely new shoot has started from the root and rises perpendicularly to a distance of two feet above the pot, and there will likely be a growth of eight inches more by the time the blossom is matured. The blossom will be of the $8 a dozen kind. Our experience has proved quite conclusively that, while the matter of fertilizing may be easily overdone, roses must have nourishment if they are to do well. In nine cases out of ten stunted, weazened plants are simply in slow process of starvation and need feeding.

THE POCKET GOPHER PEST.

In many sections of the country the pocket gopher is becoming a positive pest, particularly in the untilled portions of the farm areas. While traps have been devised which answer the purpose fairly well, they do not seem capable of destroying the gopher in sufficient numbers to prevent their rapid increase. In meadows especially they work mischief, the mounds of earth which they heap up not only tending to kill out the grass, but proving an annoyance and hindrance to the mowing machine at haying time. Among the plans which have been recommended for getting rid of them that of poisoning them seems to be the most satisfactory. The first thing to do is to locate their runways, which lie along the general direction of the mounds which are visible on the surface of the ground. This may be done most easily by thrusting an end gate rod into the ground. When it is located, a hole should be dug to the runway and a piece of apple or potato placed therein on which arsenic has been placed, or corn may be used which has been soaked in a solution of strychnine. The opening should then be closed, care being taken to disturb the runway as little as possible. If the first treatment does not fix the offender, it may be repeated in a different place.

ADULTERATION OF CLOVER SEED

Carrying out instructions contained in a recent law passed by congress, the departure of agriculture at Washington has been making an investigation of the purity of red clover seed offered for sale by seedmen located at different points in the country. Out of 1,521 samples received 116 were found to contain seeds of the destructive parasitic plant dodder, while five were found to be adulterated with yellow trefoil. Seed of the last named plant costs but 5 cents per pound and is often used by dishonest seedsmen as an adulterant of red clover seed. In the samples analyzed trefoil was found to be present in quantities varying from 8.29 to 52.74 per cent. The pamphlet issued stated not only the fact of adulteration, but gives the names of the offending firms. It further states that if farmers and seedsmen who are in doubt about the purity of the seed they buy will forward samples they will be examined and results reported promptly and free of charge.

A COTTON COMBINE.

The farmers of Alabama have united in a very effective organization whose prime object is to get control of the cotton production of the state so as to be in a position to demand a better price for it. In the past they seem to have been at the mercy of the cotton traders and speculators, who have so manipulated matters that the grower got but a paltry price for his pick. Practically all of the large cotton growers of the state are members of the organization. Large storehouses have been erected at convenient points, so that if a good price does not prevail when the crop is ready to market it may be stored and held until prices pick up. Although in existence but a short time, the organization has already saved the cotton growers of the state hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It is a prime idea for the boys on the farm to have a more or less intimate acquaintance with different kinds of housework and for the girls to know how to manage the unruly horse. While the knowledge referred to may not come into use every day, its possession is at times most advantageous.

Buyers read the Reporter-Journal.

A good dog collar with proper tag showing the tax has been paid for the years 1907, will be sufficient notice to the constable not to shoot the dog. Some ladies are getting nervous about their poodles.

The vaccination of 1905 session is still in force so all children who have not been should be vaccinated before the schools open in September; it will not pay to have children grow up in ignorance. Parents should not forget that the boys and girls of today are in greater need of a good education than the children of many years ago were.

The legislature, governor and judges fail to give directions to road supervisors that will enable them to know how to proceed with road work. The most of them seem to work on the principal of "hit or miss," but are pushing ahead, some with good results while others are still in fear and trembling.

Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, is still doing work for the farmers of the state. He requests many zoological specimens to be sent to him, but we note there are but few that are sent from Bradford county. Insect pests are numerous and much is yet to be learned about them. Do not fail to help in the work.

A high school is very desirable where there are enough pupils that are sufficiently advanced in their studies to maintain one with profit, otherwise success cannot be expected. Give us the best, even if it does cost more. Mistakes may be made, but we should learn to profit by them.

The busy season for farmers is at hand giving all more than a plenty to do, but we are glad to know that each grange has a sufficient number of members that are always on hand at the call of the master's gavel to attend to the regular business of the grange. The grange is just what the members make it so the doers have what is most desired. Of course there are exceptions to this rule, but ought not to be.

The worker gets the benefit of his labor while the idler, who sits with his mouth open sometimes "gets his fill," but not in the way of intellectual improvement.

Beware of the faker who tells you there is a plenty of gold ore in the Chemung rocks of Bradford county. We learn there are parties trying to induce patrons to part with their hard earned money in mining schemes that are worthless. Do not be fooled by them whether they use the diamond rod or not. Mining for gold, silver, zinc, lead, etc., in our county has no encouraging outlook. A few years ago a shrewd business man requested us not to speak discouragingly of such enterprise because they might bring cash to the community while operating was being conducted, but we still say beware.

True Patrons do not try to use the grange for partisan purposes, but they do study and enter in to the work of politics as a means by which to secure and maintain the rights of the farmer and his family.

A Powerful Union.

The Williamsport Grit says: "The farmers of this country have the most powerful trades union in the world. It makes little noise, tolerates no cheap talk against the man with money, has but little use for the person without property, and is fast growing. It is officially styled Patrons of Husbandry and its members are called grangers, because the subordinate lodges are designated as granges. The order is 41 years old, has over a million members and 27,000 chartered bodies. It does what most other trades unions do, professes belief in equal rights for woman and man, and it does what most other bodies professing the same belief do not do, gives woman full voice and vote and equal privileges in its organization, and does not ask them to be contented with some side degree. The order is in politics. It had the office of secretary of agriculture created, and a granger has the place. Secretary Wilson is the longest lived cabinet officer in the history of the country, in point of service he having served during three consecutive presidential terms. It has obtained rural mail delivery for 11,000,000 people in the United States. It found that insurance men got rich very quickly so it went into fire insurance on a plan of paying no salaries, carries over $1,000,000,000 on farm property and never omits speedily to pay a loss. Just now it is going into the banking business because it sees no reason why the farmer cannot himself get the interest on his deposits and receive the interest paid by him when he borrows. And when it comes to cooperative trading, the quiet granger accomplishes vastly more than anyone else. Finally the granger is persuaded that what political orators and others have said about the farmer being the backbone of the nation is true and starting from this premise he reasons that therefore the farmer ought to have his own way in the nation and he is getting it."

Reporter-Journal Patterns From the Latest NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Misses' Box Plaited Skirt Designed by May Manton—No. 5700.

Unquestionably the plaited skirt is the pre-eminent favorite for young girls, and every fresh variation finds its place. Here is a model which gives a double box plaited effect and is graceful and attractive. It is made of one of the pretty novelty veilings, but pongee, both plain and fancy, is being greatly worn and is admirable for skirts of the sort whether they are made with waist to match or to be worn with lingerie blouses. Mohair and serge, white and colored, are well liked, and there are also numberless other suitings and skirtings that can be utilized. Trimming is always a matter of taste, but this season there are certain tendencies that are much to be commended. Braid applied after some such simple design as the one illustrated is much in use, bias and cross bands of the material and bands of contrasting silk are greatly liked, while the plain stitched hem is always correct for the simpler skirt.

The skirt is cut in seven gores and is arranged in a succession of double box plaits, the closing being made invisibly at the back.

The quantity of material required for the 16 year size is 7¾ yards 27 or 32 or 4½ yards 44 inches wide, with 18 yards of braid to trim as illustrated.

Sizes for girls of 14 and 16 years.

MRS. HENRY HEEMAN KILLED BY A TRAIN NEAR WAVERLY.

Wife of Notorious Henry Met a Shocking Fate.

Mrs. Lotta Heeman, wife of Henry Heeman, who is now spending a period of years in Auburn State prison, for burglary, and who has a police record of her own, was killed Fourth of July morning about 2:30 o'clock at a point a short distance above the Chemung street crossing at East Waverly. She was struck by a fast passenger train.

The woman was seen on the streets of Waverly in the evening much intoxicated. She lived north of Waverly in the vicinity of the old ice house, and was evidently walking up the track on her way home, when the train struck her. She was terribly injured, her neck and back were broken, the left arm fractured and one side torn open. She was killed instantly. The body was taken in charge of by E. S. Hanford, and was buried the same day at East Waverly. Only a shore time ago the woman was picked up by the crew of a freight train while sleeping along the track about a quarter of a mile above the place where she was killed. That time she promised the judge to be good and she was allowed to go on a suspended sentence.

Mansfield Man Seriously Injured.

Enos Watson of Mansfield, was nearly killed in a runaway Monday afternoon on the Gardner Longwell farm on the Newtown road. He was driving a spirited team of horses in the course of his farming duties, when they became frightened, ran away, and Mr. Watson was thrown headlong from the wagon. As he was prostrate the wagon passed over his body. He was unconscious when assistance reached him. Dr. Fred G. Elliott of Mansfield, was called, and found it necessary to take several stitches to close up two scalp wounds and a gash in the right leg. One of Mr. Watson's arms was broken, and his skull fractured. He will recover, but it will be a long time before he will be able to leave his bed.

May Be True.

A valuable bulldog belonging to John C. Reed of Binghamton, committed suicide by jumping up against a picket fence until he hooked his collar over one of the pickets. He then swung himself around until the weight of his body on the leather strap shut off his wind and he strangled. This is believed to be the same dog that drank a barrel of rain water in Sayre several days ago, in an attempt to drown himself.

Captured Large Trout.

Deputy Prothonotary Henry G. Cox of Wellsboro, Tioga county, last Thursday afternoon caught a brown trout in Pine Creek, at the mouth of Four Mile run, that measured 21¾ inches and weighed 2¾ pounds dressed. It required about 20 minutes for Mr. Cox to land the big fish, which was hooked at the end of the snout with an ordinary fly.

Durell 17—Rome 3.

The Durell base ball team went to Rome Saturday afternoon and put the blinger on the Rome team by the score of 17-3. Coolbaugh and Kerrick officiated as battery for the Durell team, while Parsons of Towanda, and Russell, performed in a like capacity for Rome for five innings,giving way to Child's in the sixth.

Took a Long Walk.

Ten boys of Brookville, Jefferson county, in charge of General Secretary W. H. Love, of the Brookville Young Men's Christian association, on Tuesday finished a 200-mile walk to Eagles Mere, Sullivan county, to attend a Bible institute. They averaged 30 miles a day on their jaunt, and slept out doors.

Burned By Powder.

Paul, young son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Harden, was painfully but not seriously burned by powder Friday morning. He removed the powder from a left over firecracker, and in igniting it with a match the powder flashed up, singing his eyebrows and burning his face. He will be all right in a few days.

SENTENCED TO MARRY.

Strange Case Comes to Light in Wilkes-Barre.

As a result of the most unique sentence ever passed in Luzerne county, Anthony Gramatsky, aged 37, and Mary Podenski, aged 14, were married Wednesday evening, in Wilkes-Barre. Gramatsky had been living with the little girl for two or three years, and when the United Charities discovered it they arrested him.

Mrs. Bertels, matron of the institution, and District Attorney Salsburg, decided to try his case out of court, and acted as a jury to determine his guilt. They found him guilty and sentenced him to marry the girl or be prosecuted. He decided to get a marriage license. Mrs. Bertels explained her decision in the case by showing it is the general custom for these lower caste Russians to marry at very early ages.

A Man, a Woman, Another Man.

The Potter county papers last week gave thrilling accounts of an alleged elopement and kidnapping. While Rev. William Matheson was away from home his wife took their three children, aged 6, 4 and 2 years respectively, and disappeared. The husband later located the children at Hornell and took them back to his Coudersport home, only to have one of them stolen again by the mother. It is charged by the husband that one Otto Mumford, a glass worker, was responsible for the disappearance of Mrs. Matheson and an elopement is hinted at. This is the substance of the first chapter, but still greater things are hinted at for the next. Rev. Matheson has been engaged in revival work for some time and appears to have the confidence of the people of this section. Before his conversion a few years ago he was noted as a fighter, but has since been one of the mildest of men.

Still Paying Dividends.

Dushore has one institution that is a sort of a freak among its kind. That is the Loyalsock Bell Telephone company, limited. Three months after its organization this company paid a dividend to its stockholders of three per cent., and has done the same thing every three months since. The regular quarterly dividend was declared July 1. It is not a big company, It makes no pretentions to any big corporation manners. It was organized to improve local telephone service and equalize rates, and incidentally, to make the money invested pay a reasonable rate of interest. It has been eminently successful in all. If anyone has a bill against the Loyalsock Bell Telephone company they are hereby invited to walk up to the general manager's office and get their cash. That is the way the company does business.—Dushore Review.

Bride 73, Groom 70.

R. C. Douglas of Lovelton, who has passed the 70th milestone in his life has concluded that it is not good for man to be alone and for a companion has seletced Susanna Mortar of Bernice, who is three years his senior. Accordingly they went to Tunkhannock on Friday, June 28, 1907, and were made husband and wife by Rev. George A. Place, pastor of the M. E. church of that place. The newly married couple returned to the groom's home at Lovelton and were given a grand reception in the evening by a large number of the neighbors, composing the tin pan band who made the night hideous by their unharmonious music.—Meshoppen Enterprise.

Good Catch of Fish.

On Monday of last week, Carl Pennell and Arthur Currier, two young men of Warren township, were successful fishermen at Lake-o-Meadow. During the short time they were out they captured 25 pickerel, all good size, and one of the number was a prize winner. When taken home and weighed it tipped the scales at 3½ pounds. During the same time another party from Tracy Creek did even better than these two boys, capturing 95 pickerel, all of which were fine ones.—LeRaysville Times.

Injured in Wreck.

In the Pennsylvania railroad wreck, near Sunbury Tuesday, in which three persons were killed, Captain George T. Smith of Jamestown, N. Y., quite well known in Towanda where he has frequently visited, was injured. Mr. Smith is the father-in-law of Mercur Allen of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Allen of Towanda, and had his little grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Mercur Allen with him. The little fellow escaped from the wreck uninjured.

The County Settles.

Troy township auditors last week appraised the loss to Leon Atwood by sheep killing dogs at $200, and that of Eli Williams on the Julia Crawford farm at $58. Two dogs caught redmouthed in the act have been killed. The county will foot the bill from the fund provided by the dog tax for that purpose.—Troy Gazette-Register.

Bit Once Too Often.

A trout was recently hooked in a Sullivan county stream that evidently had battled many years with anglers. It measured a trifle less than 20 inches. So full of fish hooks was its body that the man who captured it made no attempt to use the flesh, but sold fish and all for old iron to a junk dealer.

LEHIGH VALLEY FIREMAN SUSTAINED AWFUL INJURIES.

Charles Fuller of Waverly, a Lehigh Valley fireman, met with an awful accident on Thursday morning by the blowing out of the crown sheet of the engine he was firing. His train, a westbound frenight, was three miles west of East Waverly when the accident happened.

Fuller was standing directly in front of the fire-box shoveling coal when without warning the crown sheet, accompanied by a terrific roar of hissing steam and scalding hot water,, gave way. Fuller was knocked down by the force of the explosion and before he could recover his feet he was completely enveloped in hot steam and water which poured forth from the boiler. When the train came to a standstill the engineer, realizing what had occurred, went hurriedly to the assistance of Fuller. He found the latter lying on the space between the fire-box and the tender. He was unconscious and his clothing had almost been torn from his body and was in shreds. An engine was at once sent for and Fuller was placed on board and hurried to the hospital at Sayre.

Died From Burns.

Charles Fuller died about 9 o'clock Saturday night at the Robert Packer hospital from the effects of burns received the morning of July 4, by the blowing out of the crown sheet of the Lehigh engine of which he was fireman. He was 20 years of age and had been a resident of Waverly all his life and was loved and respected by a large circle of friends who mourn his tragic and untimely death. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Fuller, and an elder sister, Elizabeth. The funeral was held from the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. F. Warner of Sayre, officiating.

ONE JOB TOO MANY.

Tioga County Representative Has an Appointment Which Bothers Him.

Representative Andrew B. Hitchcock, of Tioga county, who was last week appointed an insurance examiner by Insurance Commissioner Martin—one of the two $1,200 positions created by the last legislature—is in Harrisburg to ascertain "where he is at." Under the constitution Mr. Hitchcock cannot be appointed to any office under the state administration during the time for which he shall have been elected as a member of the assembly, and this has been sprung on the Tioga statesman, whose term will not expire until December, 1908.

Mr. Hitchcock wanted to see Insurance Commissioner Martin regarding the matter but Commissioner Martin had not come to Harrisburg from Philadelphia, and the matter is yet in abeyance.

Mars Was Close to Earth.

Mars on Saturday was nearer the earth than it has been in many years—only a trifle of 28,000,000 miles, in fact—and astronomers the world over Saturday night had trained on the planet all the improved telescopic and photographic apparatus known to science. In the astronomical order of things Mars at any time can approach only a few miles closer than it was Saturday. It is hoped that July 6, 1907, has given to the earth's people their first formal introduction to the Martians, those creatures of romance and imagination.

Twenty-six Cents for Wool.

The buyers of Western Bradford county are offering 26 cents for wool. A few chips have been delivered at that figure. There is believed to be more wool in the vicinity of Troy than for some years, with a prospect of still more sheep. Besides the natural increase, several cars of store sheep were shipped to that borough during the Winter and Early Spring.

The stockholders of the Mexican-American Lumber company met in Wyalusing recently and perfected the organization of the company which is to strip the lumber from a tract of land of over 100,000 acres located in the central part of Mexico. Capitalists from Syracuse and Auburn, N. Y., and Philadelphia, were present. A charter has been asked for under the laws of South Dakota, and the company will be capitalized at $3,000,000. The principal offices of the company will be located in Wyalusing. It is expected that S. W. Johnson of LeRaysville, will go to Mexico as soon as the plans of the company are perfected, and will have charge of the work at that end of the line.

Among the local capitalists interested in the company are F. E. Eastabrooks, Stevensville; G. W. Fassett, Laceyville; S. W. Johnson, F. L. Inslee, Charles Miller, Dr. W. H. Gage, W. D. All baseball players in town are requested to come to the East Side grounds for practice evenings at 6:30 and try for the team.

LEHIGH VALLEY CHANGES.

W. N. Dampman Has Been Appointed Trainmaster at Wilkes-Barre.

Several important changes are scheduled this week which will effect the Lehigh Valley railroad, owing to the resignation of X. J. Schatzle for several years trainmaster in Wilkes-Barre. W. L. Dampman, who has been associated with the company, has been appointed trainmaster, and John F. Hevey, chief clerk to Superintendent Mood, will be his assistant.

Charles F. Underwood of West Pittston, who was night yardmaster at Coxton yards, has been appointed day yardmaster. No appointment as chief clerk has as yet been made.—Wilkes Barre News.

A Surprise.

On the morning of July 3 quite a company of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith of North Spring Hill. It being the 20th anniversary of their wedding day, Mrs. Smith soon realized as did all present that she was surprised. Everything passed off pleasantly, music and conversation being in order until about 1 o'clock about 40 persons repaired to the dining room and sat down to a table nicely decorated with flowers and laden with chicken pie and other substantials which the ladies had helped to prepare. After dinner the company was nicely entertained by Smith's orchestra which rendered some fine music, also music from the phonograph was a pleasing feature of the day. At about 4 o'clock ice cream and cake were served, after which the guests departed, wishing their kind host and hostess many happy returns of the day.

DEATH QUICKLY RE-UNITES BROTHER AND SISTER.

"I, Too, Am Dying!" Exclaims Sister When Told of Brother's Death.

The most pathetic double visitation of death that has taken place in the coal regions in years was that following speedily the decease of Connie McGeehan, a former member of the Athletic base ball club and for years identified with the Tri-State League, which occurred at Hazleton at 5 o'clock Fourth of July morning. Two hours later his sister, Maggie, who for two years had been his faithful attendant, also passed away, dying from a broken heart. She was 20 years old and one of the most beautiful girls in the coal regions. When she was informed of her brother's death, she exclaimed:

"Possibly it is better that he, poor boy, has been relieved of his misery!" Then, turning to another member of the family, said:

"I, too, am dying!" as she closed her eyes and passed peacefully away.

Connie McGeehan was 25 years old, and in 1905, when he left the Tri-State League to join the Toronto club, he contracted a cold, which later developed into tuberculosis, and for two years he has lived in a tent in the hope of securing relief.

Brother and sister will be laid to rest side by side in St. Ann's cemetery, Freeland, Saturday morning.
